County is Paid $180,100 From Auto Fees

The State Highway Department in its distribution of funds from its motor vehicle highway collections in the three months of April, May and June has allotted $180,100 in Livingston County, of which $157,803 went to the county direct, Brighton receiving $5,706; Howell $10,128; Fowlerville $3,989, and Pinckney $2,128.

Howard E. Hill, state highway director, said net receipts of the Highway Fund during April, May and June amounted to $52,548,373, an increase of $3,508,891, or 7.2 percent, compared to the same period of 1964.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the motor vehicle highway fund.

After deduction of collection costs and the Waterways Commission's share, the money is distributed under provisions of state law which provide that 47 percent goes to the State Highway Department for use on state highways, 35 percent to the State's 83 counties for use on county roads and 18 percent to incorporated cities and villages for their roads and streets.

Under this formula, the State Highway Department will receive $24,697,735 as its share of the second quarter collections, while the counties will receive $18,891,931 and the incorporated cities and villages will get $9,458,707.

American League Play-offs

Rain washed out two of the four games scheduled in the American League play-offs last week. However, finally they were completed the last game being on Monday, Aug. 23.

The White Sox beat the Yankees 18-10 in the first game of the play-offs. The Yankees made a good attempt at catching the White Sox in the last inning but the Sox had too large a lead.

White Sox — Chuck Schaffer, Mike Young, and Steve Lattimer. Yankees — David Mitchell and George Marshall.

The second game of the play-offs was also a high scoring contest. In it the Tigers champions of the regular season play, beat the Indians 12-9. Both teams spirits were high for the game and they both showed it in the exciting contest.

Tigers — Dennis Douglas and Keith Butler.

Indians — Chuck Miller and Pat Brown.

Because of their victories, the White Sox and Tigers were pitted against each other in the final game of the season. The regular season champs drew first blood scoring two quick runs. Then once again they scored. This time on Danny Herbers' home run. The score was 3-0. The White Sox got back in the game when Steve Lattimer hit a three-run home run over the Tigers centerfielder's head.

Registration Underway; Estimated 1700 To Enter Pinckney Area Schools

"Close to 1700 students will probably enter Pinckney schools this fall," estimated Superintendent Wes Reader as registration got underway Monday morning. The actual total will not be known until the second week in September.

Supt. Reader expects more than 400 in high school alone for the first time in this school's history. Last year every grade, but kindergarten picked up between June and Sept and it is likely this may happen again. Last year's official enrollment was 1,565.

Most of the teachers are returning, according to Reader, with a few new ones in elementary. The last to be obtained was a commercial teacher who has now been hired.

A new innovation this year is 8 a.m. classes because of overcrowded conditions. By putting rooms that are ordinarily idle from 8 to 9 a.m. into use and letting these students out at 2:30, more students may be handled in the same number of classrooms until completion of the high school alleviates overcrowdedness.

"The buses will stay on M-36 for the 8 a.m. run," Reader explained, "and only students on that road or who want to come out to that road to catch a bus will attend early classes." The superintendent doesn't anticipate difficulty filling the early classes as early driver's education classes became the most popular ones of all. "Some were willing to walk a mile in order to take the early classes. They enjoy getting home so much earlier in the afternoon, and don't seem to mind getting up early in the morning," Reader said.

Hauss Hall is to hold the fourth grade this year and St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Hamburg will be the location of a half-day kindergarten class. Some 30 pupils will attend there, and there will also be a full day of kindergarten held both in Pinckney and Hamburg elementary schools. The five classes, Reader said, will probably contain from 150 to 175 students.

"However, last year kindergarten attendance didn't climb as the other classes did, and we don't expect it to this year."

Reader suggests that this odd enrollment trend may mean more families are moving into the Pinckney area. Added water frontage such as the new canals between some of the lakes seems to attract more residents.

The temporary housing of fourth grade and kindergarten has been approved by the state fire marshal, the County Health Department and the Department of Education.

Reader looks for a March completion of the new high school. The floors are poured, he said, and much of the brick is up. "So far we've had no labor problem, ideal weather and no material shortage," he explained.

If the school is ready by March, bids may then go out on special equipment such as for science rooms, and by the end of the school year, transfer of present equipment will be made from the old school to the new. "By next August, we hope to be all set for school to open," the superintendent predicted hopefully.

The 1888 addition to the old high school will be torn down in June and four additional rooms built onto the front of the old high school which will house the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades.

12,500 Acres Involved In Water Project

A decision affecting more than 200 families and nearly 12,500 acres in Livingston and Washtenaw counties, will be made Aug. 31. On that date bids will be opened by Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner John H. Flook and Livingston County Drain Commissioner Clair Miller for what is known as the Portage-Base-Lakes lake level project.

The project involves the damming of several creeks and waterways connecting with the Huron River to provide reservoirs in Hamburg and Putnam townships in Livingston county and in Dexter and Webster townships in Washtenaw county.

Such reservoirs, according to U. S. engineers, would restore the rapidly declining water levels in Whitmore Lake, Portage Lake, Patterson Lake and practically all the lakes in the Huron River basin.

Two years ago the U. S. Public Health Service proposed four alternative proposals for water quality control in the Huron River basin.

Your Newspaper

(Newspaper readers and the general public often have questions about newspapers, new coverage, and news policies. This will provide information important to you as a newspaper reader. The following concern the role of the newspaper as a community public service institution.)

Q. What kinds of community public service do newspapers perform?

A. Newspapers lead fights for better schools, improved streets, roads and sidewalks, more hospital facilities, better government, more participation by citizens in their government, etc. Where a community is progressive and in tune with its population growth, you can be sure there is at least one aggressive newspaper at work in the area. Newspapers lend their columns and their support for community programs, charity drives, and annual events of all kinds that move the community a notch ahead.

Q. My organization works in the area of community service. Why can't we get anything in the newspaper?

A. Perhaps you go about it the wrong way. First, learn the needs of the local newspaper and how it wants news prepared. Know when its deadlines are and which editors or reporters to contact. Visit the newspaper office and discuss your problem and what you are trying to do. Off times the organizations that yell the loudest about not being able to get any news in the newspaper either (1) have never sent a representative to the newspaper office, or (2) never do anything that is newsworthy. You've got to make news first before you can get it printed.

Q. I belong to a public service club. Why can't we get our club meeting story in the paper
each week?

A. A newspaper has just so much space each week to fill with news.
There is a lot of competition for that space. The editors must think of every reader in the community club. When local clubs have a news-and not just the members of your worthy meeting, you can get the story in the paper. This is true of all clubs, not just yours. The answer to your question is: Have better, more newsworthy meetings, with good speakers, and you'll get more local publicity.

Q. Are newspapers really concerned about public service?

A. Yes, they are. This is their business — as well as their responsibility and their privilege. Individual newspapers and state and national newspaper groups have adopted codes or standards accepting their responsibility to serve the communities in which they publish.

This is a privilege and a responsibility that they cherish and guard zealously.

Q. Radio and television stations are required to devote a large part of their broadcast time to public service programs. Why wouldn't this be a good thing for newspapers?

A. Licensing is necessary in the broadcast business to prevent chaos on the air waves. If each station were not restricted to its own broadcast band, there would be chaos. The allocation of channels must be made on some kind of basis and the amount of public service time is a basis used in granting a license. If this kind of thing were done in the newspaper world, freedom of the press would vanish. If government licensed the press, only those newspapers friendly to government would ever get a license, and thus government could eventually control the press by refusing to grant a license, or by threatening to withdraw a license.

Parking Meters? Why?

Parking meters, once hailed as the panacea for all small towns' financial woes, have, since their institution in Brighton in 1947, been more or less a political football.

The revenue from them of an estimated $4,000 a year for the city is also estimated to have cost Brighton merchants many many times this amount of money in loss of sales. In fact so unpopular did parking meters become in many small towns that already Farmington and Royal Oak have taken them out.

Their legality has also been a moot question for many years but because of the small sums involved no person has gone to the big expense that would be involved in challenging them.

On the outskirts of Brighton,
where there are no meters, business houses have prospered immensely and when the A & P moved into the city it provided, at great expense, a free parking area for its customers.

For a long time meters circled Les' Stop & Shop market but unexpectedly the meters have now been removed from one side of the supermarket.

In fact the greater part of Police Chief Lamoria's time has been taken up on checking parked cars, giving tickets even when the meters are broken, but always alert to see that no one parks more than two hours even should the car be moved to a meter in front or behind the one he had been keeping his eyes on.

The motorist who pays taxes on his car, and for license plates and on the gasoline he uses — taxes that supposedly are for the upkeep of roads — is the target for the parking ticket gouge.

The motorist pays both ways.
Besides paying taxes on his property, his income tax, social security tax, sales tax and a possible
state income tax, he also is gouged for parking expenses on a highway he already paid for.

Taxes and parking meter fees
now total far more than the average man's total income just a few years ago.

Even to collect one's mail at the Post Office, the driver is confronted with parking meters.

OPEN HEARINGS NEEDED HERE

It is the usual practice for Congressional committees to hold open hearings on major legislative proposals.

That procedure, however, is not followed in the House of Representatives during the consideration of appropriations measures which obviously are of extreme importance to all taxpayers. Certainly there should be an opportunity for the public to voice its opinions about the proposed expenditure of sums approaching the 100 billion dollars mark annually.

You can, of course, submit your views in writing
but that is far from being as effective as testimony given at an open hearing that is well-covered by the press.

It is to be hoped, therefore, that serious attention is paid to the recommendation by the National Association of Manufacturers for the holding of open hearings by the House Appropriations Committee on all appropriations measures.

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas G. Sharpe

MICHIGAN'S JUDICIAL SYSTEM

In the deluge of proposals submitted during the first 6 months of the 1965 Legislative Session were many so-called "special interest" court bills — calling for increased pay, higher retirement benefits, expanded power, or additional judgeships. The controversy over some of these
— such as the Senate-approved pay increase of nearly $10,000 per year per judge for those serving on the Supreme Court (from $25,000 to $35,000) and the recently-created Court of Appeals (from $23,000 to $32,500) — resulted in their defeat.

There were, however, numerous bills passed by the legislators which should facilitate the handling of the increasing volume of litigation in our courts and expedite the administration of justice!

Some of the major bills affecting the state's judicial system which did win legislative approval were measures to:

- Revise the current structure of circuit court districts by making a separate district out of Midland County — leaving Clare, Isabella and Gladwin counties as a district.
• Create 13 additional circuit judgeships, bringing to 102 the number of circuit court judges in Michigan.
• Limit annual salary of circuit judges to $30,000, with the state paying not more than $15, 000 thereof.
• Permit circuit judges to count any prior legislative service in determining their retirement benefits, provided they pay into the pension fund the difference between their legislative pension contributions and the amount they would have paid the judges' retirement system for the same years.

• Permit circuit judges to retire with full pension (one-half of their state pay) at age 60 with 20 years of service — and shorten from 18 to 15 years the service requirement for judges requiring at age 65.
• Authorize planning of a new Supreme Court building to cost in the neighborhood of $4.5 million, and increase the budget for the Supreme Court and court administrator by $58,000 over last year.
• Increase the budget for the recently created 9-member Court of Appeals by $171,000 for its first full year of operation.
• Require counties having a population of 150,000 but less than 250,000 to add another probate judge if they do not already have 2 probate judges — results in creation of 3 new judgeships.
• Authorize 3 more judges for Recorder's Court in Detroit.
• Allow a city council to set the salary of a municipal judge instead of having it fixed by city charter.

Most of the foregoing pieces of legislation affect the various courts of this state insofar as organizational structure, remuneration, and operating budgets are concerned. Next week I shall cover some of the bills passed dealing with law enforcement powers and policies of the courts.

11,000 Drivers
Lose Licenses

Mandatory driver's license suspension because of unsatisfied judgments, accidents and drunken driving total close to 11,000 so far this year, Secretary of State James M. Hare said recently.

Hare said mandatory suspensions in July totaled 1,838, higher than any month this year with the exception of the 2,022 processed in March.

The year-long total is about equal with last year and slightly increased over 1963.

The motto of the British royal arms, "Dieu et mon droit," is a reminder of the time when Englishmen spoke French.
French became the language of the royal court and the courts of justice after the Normans conquered England in 1066. The motto, by the way, means "God and my right."

Letter To
The Editor

Dear Editor:

We the Board of Trustees of Sunrise Park, a Michigan corporation, have noted the article on Lake Pollution in your issue of July 7, 1965, which particularly reports that Sunrise Park is one of the worst examples of this pollution.

We enclose herewith a copy of our letter to the Livingston County Health Department, regarding same, which is self explanatory.

Livingston County Health Dept.,
Howell, Michigan
Gentlemen:
Attn: Dr. G. B. Wickstrom,
Director

We the Board of Trustees of Sunrise Park, on Lake Chemung, in Genoa Township, are very much interested in an article which appeared in The Brighton Argus of July 7, 1965, relative to Lake Pollution, and referring especially to our own particular location. This article quotes your Mr. David E. Ah-rendt, "Sanitarian" for your department in some detail regarding Sunrise Park as an example, and stating that it HAS BEEN SHOWN by your department that dye placed in toilets of cottages in Sunrise Park is flushed directly into the lake.

Two members of our community, working in cooperation with Mr. Ahrendt, report that only four days before the publication of this article they completed tests of approximately thirty-three locations on our lake front, and failed to find even one trace of this lake pollution.
The testing of the remaining properties in Sunrise is awaiting the procurement of additional dye by your department. (This testing should be completed as soon as possible, before some houses are closed for the season.)

Please understand that this testing and investigation is AT
OUR REQUEST and WITH OUR COOPERATION!

We would like very much to discuss this matter with you and your department in person, and invite you to meet with our Board of Trustees for this purpose. Our next regular meeting will be on Saturday evening, September 11th, but we shall be glad to call a special meeting sooner if it can be arranged.
Please let us hear from you as soon as possible, as we feel this matter to be MOST URGENT!

Respectfully,
SUNRISE PARK,
A Michigan Corporation,
Board of Trustees.

Dear Editor:
I recently returned from a vacation in Northern Michigan in which my family and I roughly enjoyed two heavenly weeks.

We enjoyed parking our car
in a strange town and spending a leisurely day shopping. The most enjoyable part of these shopping "Sprees" was the fact that we did not have to rush back to our car because the parking meter was about to expire. Reason being, we found very few communities have to count on the revenue of parking meters that would normally keep tourists such as ourselves on the beach or in a motel and not stopping in a resort town.

The whole essence of this is—
I wonder how often this happens in "Brighton" — well known as a tourist resort?

Pity isn't it that many of my local friends have found other fine shopping accommodations easily accessible via Expressway because of the free parking offered by them; also communities where a police officer will drop a nickel in an expired meter for you and leave an envelope for you to repay the nickel. I find myself driving out of town
to shop because of these same reasons. Pity isn't it? Mrs. Sally Carrier.

School Critic
Quits Board

Dr. Sam Russo, former president of the Whitmore Lake Board of Education, has resigned from the board, effective immediately.

Russo submitted his resignation at a board meeting "because of my responsibilities to my family, my patients and my health."

Russo was president of the board for nine months, during which time he was the center of controversy.

During his tenure, the former school superintendent, Frederick W. Krueger, was fired, the Michigan Education Association imposed sanctions on the district, 27 teachers resigned at the end of the school year and an unsuccessful recall election was held to remove Russo from the board.

Officials of the school system said, however, that they did not look on Russo's resignation as a continuation of the controversy. His wife, they said, is seriously ill and Russo cannot spare the time needed to serve on the board.

The district's new superintendent, Edward E. Heathcote, said he believed last year's con-trovercy was over.

The new $850,000 high school triggered much of the controversary when a dispute arose as to its location.

GOVERNOR
ROMNEY
REPORTS

Congressman
Wes Vivian
Reports

The responsibilities of individual involvement and participation in the governmental process are unending, not only for those who are your elected representatives but for you as citizens.

Take this year, for example.
We have concluded what has been, in most respects, a fruitful legislative session. Yet the work has just begun.

We enter the fall season with many important tasks awaiting us, all of which will require the understanding and the active participation of you as responsible participants in our state's political process. Let me cite just one of the noteworthy jobs ahead.

This is the resumption of the legislative session to deal primarily with our state's tax system and the revenue requirements of the near future. If you have been keeping abreast of this situation, you are aware that we have been attempting for some months to arrive at a tax reform program that will command bipartisan consideration this fall. I am still confident that we will find such a program and that it will receive the support it will need if we are to revamp our tax system and also provide the financial resources necessary to meet the explosive needs ahead. Success of this venture will depend importantly on your understanding and your willingness to stand behind this administration on such an issue.

I could cite many other forthcoming programs, such as the difficult task of reorganizing the executive branch of state government, that will require more than the usual activity and cooperation for this time of year.

But I want to direct your attention to the local elections being held in your community. Too often people get excited only when these are national and or state-wide elections. However, it is essential that everyone become informed on local candidates and issues and then vote.

An intelligent vote at the local level can be of the greatest benefit to you. Your local officials and judges are closer to your problems and deal with them on a daily basis.

I call upon each of you to remain active in the coming months — informing your legislators of your desire to see fiscal reform become a reality this year and voting in any local election your community may be conducting this fall.

Guard Squadron I, all five armed forces will be serving in Viet Nam.

educational benefits available
under the legislation. I personally doubt whether I could have achieved a doctoral degree,
without the initial boost of G.I.
Bill benefits.

Today, we are reminded daily
of the sacrifices which our servicemen are making in Vietnam.
I support the provisions of educational and other benefits for these men, comparable to those provided earlier for our other veterans. Moreover, I believe that it would be wise, as well as beneficial for our Nation, to provide educational benefits for all veterans, whose education was interrupted by military service — including service not in a war theatre.

Past experience has shown that the benefits to the Nation as a whole far outweigh the small cost of providing G.I. Bill allowances to veterans. A good case could even be made for the thesis that the increased earning power of veterans who receive training under G.I. Bill legislation actually generates more federal tax receipts than the total cost of the programs.

As one of the World War II veterans who benefited from the G.I. Bill, I am personally aware of the value of this kind of legislation. My own professional career was aided by the School Enrollment

It is now time for the parents of all the younger pupils going back to elementary grades and junior high schools, and also for the huge crop of increasingly self-reliant teen agers who will be going back to senior high schools to step up their own personal preparations for the new term of learning.

Estimated total national enrollment in school and college this fall exceeds a total of 53,800,000. This is approximately one-fourth of the nation's current population.

In addition, more than 2,000,000 teachers will go back to work — constituting the nation's No. 1 career classification.

Biggest percentage increase is in the colleges and universities, accounted for primarily by the coming of age of more post-war babies. It will continue for some years to come.

Another factor is the heavy emphasis on the importance of a higher education which is stimulating more and more high school graduates to seek admission to college. This in turn is again intensifying the high school students' worries as college admission standards increase, while the number of places are taxed by the demand.

At the bottom level of the age groups, the school system seeks now to bring even four-year-olds into classrooms. That they have the capacity — and need the attention — for learning in preparation for regular grade schools, is now generally acknowledged.

Enrollment increases at all levels are felt sharply at home. Educational authorities can cite figures to show increases almost proportionately as great as those across the nation.

First on the list of preparatory steps is the annual health examination and especially the eyesight check-ups. Better to be able to take necessary preventive measures than to have learning interrupted by physical problems that could have been anticipated.

Parents of teen agers and especially of those going to college, will have to assume responsibility just as they do for the younger children.

Now is the time for building up the back to school wardrobe on a planned basis, while selections from fresh and fashionable merchandise are available. To defer may play havoc not only with time but with the budget also.

Shopping at home, before leaving for the campus, can prove important to those going to college. Again, budgetary matters are important.

Furthermore, dealing with a familiar store where personnel is informed on collegiate trends, can be a lot more satisfactory than to deal with the unfamiliar merchants in the college town. That can come later.

College bound students also would do well to select their luggage now and such fittings as they will need for their campus rooms.

Teaching Biggest Job

Even for those who do not plan to spend their lives in actual teaching, the education field offers a wide variety of "back-up" or administrative posts.

There are opportunities at all levels for counselors, librarians, psychologists, social workers, dietitians, speech and sight therapists in the schools.

There are exciting openings for specialists in programmed learning, educational television, language laboratories and other new teaching media.

There is the big field of administration for those who aspire to become principal, dean, department head, curriculum director, research or personnel chief, superintendent of schools.

Teaching — and its offshoot careers — has become the nation's number one job. And judging from the testimony of those in teaching today, it is a wonderful one.

Almost every American home has somebody going back to school this fall. Roughly one American of every two will head for some kind of class — 53 million youngsters to elementary and high school; five million to college; and more than 28 million to adult education courses.

Education has become the nation's biggest business — and is recognized by everybody from President Johnson down as the backbone of the "Great Society." In terms of people involved — students, teachers, other employees and employees in industries serving school needs — education is bigger than the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force combined.

And it's getting bigger. Public school enrollments will increase about one million each year for the rest of this decade. College enrollments will double, reaching a total of 9 million by 1975. And there is no end in sight for the mushrooming field of adult education.

Then there are the new imperatives in education — the need to dip down and get the culturally different child into school as early as age 3 or 4... and at the other end, the need to stop the tragic waste of talents of one million school dropouts per year.

The President, who demonstrated in the recent session of Congress his determination to make education the number one legislative priority, has commented: "I would not be proud to be President of the world's richest nation where millions of children cannot read and write."

It all adds up to the fact that teaching will become the biggest "job opening" ever offered America's young men and women. The field is wide open and the sky's the limit for those who seek a career of challenge, significance, and service.

Do You Remember?

Looking at our Mill Pond which needs only dredging, to make it a beautiful Brighton attraction, and a few more benches for people to sit on and enjoy the ducks and sunshine, it brought back memories, with the Old City Hall next to it. If this landmark could only talk, how many true stories, stormy council meetings, court room drama, it could tell about. The old city hall, being our first location for our Fire Dept., on the ground floor, with its big fire alarm siren on the tower, was also the location of the Brighton Library and city hall, where many dockets and lawbreakers spent a short time in the back room of the City Hall, before being transferred to the County Jail.

Built of sturdy brick construction, it has weathered many storms of the elements, and many interesting storms in its council chambers, for over sixty years.

Mayors, councilmen, lawyers, clerks, and even city managers, have departed, but the building still stands firm on its foundations. In later years, the Brighton Fire Department built its new station across the street from the Mill Pond.

Offices were installed on the ground floor, where the fire trucks once stood, and the firemen gathered at the meetings, before and after a fire, where the fire hoses were dried, to prepare for new action. Still later, public rest rooms and an office for our fine Brighton police officers with their Chief LaMorla, were added.

After moving Old City Hall to the new building (previously the Brighton Bank) it is again preparing to house the Brighton Library and my heartiest congratulations to a wonderful group of citizens who are responsible for this big step for learning more about history, and a way to look at the past, and also to have a look into the future.

We're hoping that it shall help more and more teenagers, along with adults, to avail themselves of this wonderful service.

W.S.C.S.

W.S.C.S. of the First Methodist Church will meet at the church on Wednesday, Aug. 25, at 1 p.m.

Mr. Milton Lawson will speak to the group on "School Drop outs."

Tri - Lake News

Velma Bufford 229-8071

There are two Fonda Lake residents who probably don't know the enjoyment they gave me for a very brief moment one evening last week. The sun was just going down, a huge red ball, casting a shimmering path across the lake almost to our door. As I looked out across the lake, two sailboats chose that moment to sail into the path of the sun, their sails taking on the ruddy glow. Only a brief few seconds, and they were out of the sun's path and sailing on, but for that short time I enjoyed a picture I will long remember!

Congratulations to Elaine Baprawski who celebrated her 20th birthday on August 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Baprawski Sr. of the Island Lake Resort have been entertaining 11 year old Danny Watkins of Southfield for the past several weeks. Danny is the godson of Mrs. Baprawski and Edmund Jr. During the visit, Eddie and Danny made a trip to Kensington Park, and to the University of Michigan campus in Ann Arbor.

On Sunday August 8 Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Root of Fonda Lake entertained 35 members of the Root family at a potluck picnic. Guests came from Kalamazoo, Lawton, Coldwater, East Lansing, Saginaw and Detroit. The oldest member was Aunt Hattie Root who is 92, while the youngest member was the Root's grandson Tommy who is just 11 months old. The youngsters enjoyed skiing and swimming while the oldsters talked over the "good old days."

The week following the reunion, Mr. and Mrs. Root entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sloan of Sandusky, Ohio.

Our deepest sympathies to Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Bailey of Kenyon Drive at the death of Mrs. Bailey's Mother, Mrs. Mary Ferguson.

Visitors at our home Saturday, August 14 were Mrs. Harry Voultenous of Trenton, and Mrs. Harriet Bufford and Mrs. Irma Evans of Valley Farms, Arizona. Mother and Aunt Irma I flown here for the funeral of their sister, Mrs. Olive Wenzel of Owosso.

On Monday, August 16, our nephew Red Bufford arrived to spend a week with us. We took him to Tecumseh on Saturday where he will spend some time with his Mother's family before returning to Arizona.

Mrs. Nina Curtis of Knowlson Drive spent the weekend of August 15 in Detroit. On Monday, August 16, she attended the funeral of a friend, Mr. E. C. Winstanley.

Mrs. Ula Davis of Felske Drive, and her sister, Miss Violet Stock of Kenrich Drive, spent last week at the cottage of friends in Caseville on Saginaw Bay.

Mrs. Davis recently received a call from Chicago from her son, Airman 1st Class Richard Davis while he was on a duty flight. Dick is stationed at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

Karen Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams of Island Lake had a muscle check of her eyes on August 18, showing good results following the operation she had earlier this summer.

Thursday, August 19, Mrs. Esther Seeling of Briggs Lake attended the 40th of 8 Chapeau of the Ingham County Chapter in Lansing, at which the officers of the 40th of 8 were installed.

Mrs. Richard Kreitschmann of Fonda Lake, who recently spent 10 days in St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor, is back on the mend now. She enjoyed the annual visit of her sister Mrs. Angelica Kaney of Kansas City, Mrs. Kaney who is in her seventies makes the trip each summer.

The latest news I have of Jim Sutherland is that he has been transferred to another hospital in Chicago, and is coming along as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Velma Beach is steadily improving, but is still a patient at St. Joseph Hospital.

ROBERT HERNDON (left), President of Rush Lake Hills Golf Club, checks Vic Halferty, club pro and manager, as he attempts to sink an eight-foot putt on the ninth hole of natural rolling Rush Lake Hills Golf Club. The course has been expanded to 18 holes.

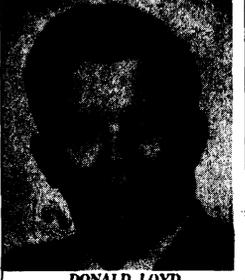

In this day when expressways and fast transportation cut mileage to a matter of minutes, golf courses that 30 years ago were out of reach of the big city today are the Mecca of golfers for hundreds of miles away.

In fact practically every golf fan carries his clubs in the trunk of his car as proved last weekend at Rush Lake Hills golf course near Pinckney.

Robert Herndon, president of the club counted seven cars from Ohio parked at the clubhouse, and autos also from California, Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky.

Last Saturday 40 members of the Whitmore Lake club, 20 men and 20 women, played the 18 hole course in the morning having made reservations to tee off at 9:30 a.m.

YOUTH GROUP'S HIKING TRIP

The Youth Group arrived home Saturday night after the most enjoyable week they have had in a long time. With Rev. and Mrs. Eidson; Linda LaPine, Greg Parks, Bruce Evenson, and Bob Brandenburg left Brighton Sunday, Aug. 15, at 12:30. They motored through Canada, crossing at Windsor and taking Highway 401 going through London, Ont., Hamilton, St. Catharines, Colburn, and camping that evening close by. They had a nice swim in Lake Ontario. They started out again Monday at 9:00 and visited the Niagara Falls. It was in fine shape and the weather perfect to enjoy it. After some time spent there they continued on, entering Buffalo and continuing on the New York expressway, going through Syracuse, Utica, and Schenectady. There they left the expressway and continued north entering Vermont late that evening. They camped that night at Lake Rowseum. The next day they visited Hanover, New Hampshire, and took a sightseeing trip around Dartmouth College and continuing on to Gorham. They set up camp at Dolly Copp camp and then took a four hour hiking trip, using the "Imp" trail. They had a good time and were tired enough to rest well that night.

Thursday was the big day! They were at the foot of Mt. Washington and ready for the climb. At 11:00 they started the climb. The day was warm and muggy, but as they climbed they found a great change. When they reached the summit after climbing 6,200 feet the air was chilly and much thinner. They rested for an hour, finding food and warmth in a shelter. The peak also was shrouded in a heavy fog which drenched them as well. They returned by car, and after changing clothes and resting awhile it was time for the evening meal. As Mr. and Mrs. LaPine had given Linda a gift of money to be used as a special treat along the way, they decided this was the time. Rev. and Mrs. Eidson drove them into Goreham where they dined in style and then returned to camp for a well earned rest.

Friday morning they started on the return trip, stopping at Lake Champlain and Fort Ticonderoga where they stayed two hours sightseeing. They all found it fascinating. They camped at Piseco Friday night. Saturday at nine they were off on the last lap home, stopping at Oneida and visiting the silver works there, buying some souvenirs. They again crossed at Buffalo and back through Canada, crossing at Windsor. They arrived home at 11:30 Saturday night.

They are very proud of the fact that they left with $154.00 that they had earned at various jobs during the year, and returned with $50.00 of it left. That will go into the fund for next year.

Both the Youth Group and their parents give Rev. and Mrs. Eidson a vote of appreciation for making this trip possible.

Incidentally, ALL of the young folks were in church Sunday morning!

Officers elected for the coming year for the Legion are: commander, Raymond Falk; senior vice commander, George Scott; second vice commander, Harry Jensen; adjutant, Bill Hodge; finance officer, Jack Jarvis; sergeant at arms, George Frisbee; service officer, Les Kluck; and chaplain, Cy Sutton.

Following installation of officers, entertainment was furnished by a group of Indians from Brighton, Detroit, Warren, Madison Heights, Oak Park and Ferndale who performed native Indian dances in shortened ritual. They danced imploring the favor of their gods for peace, hunting, and honoring of the departed braves. There was also a ribbon dance, resembling somewhat the white man's square dance. Their costumes were very colorful and their performance was well received by an appreciative audience. The dances terminated by the audience participating in a dance line led by the Indians forming a weaving line around the room - everyone holding hands.

A buffet supper was served by Norma Mayo, Bernice Howie, Esther Hackhardt and Elda Brown to about 60 members and the ten entertainers.

Nabbed Before He's Missed

The troopers of the Brighton post have become experts in catching escaped prisoners... perhaps one reason is because they have had so much practice. Almost as a matter of course, the troopers investigate suspicious persons in the area, and return the truant prisoners to the proper authorities.

Last Saturday morning two Brighton troopers, Edward Handcock and Paul Palmer, illustrated their proficiency by capturing an escapee even before he was missed from the jail.

The troopers were checking out a complaint of a suspicious man in the Whitmore Lake area early Saturday morning, and discovered a property receipt from the Washtenaw County Jail, and sure enough, upon checking with the red-faced authorities at the jail, a prisoner was missing.

This prisoner had not merely walked away from the jail however, he had been in maximum security, after an escape from the Cassidy Lake Prison Camp and ironically he had been captured after that escape by the troopers of the Brighton Post.

The prisoner, Bradley Whitaker, had used a hack saw blade, and had sawed through two iron bars to get out of his cell, through iron bars of a cat-walk, then through angle iron bars of a small window, and through two screens. He then climbed down two and a half stories on a drain pipe to make his escape.

The prisoner was returned to the Washtenaw County Jail.

Mrs. Eula Bullard and Mrs. Troy Bullard enjoyed a day's shopping at the Westland shopping center last week.
A car and motorcycle were involved in a near accident last week when they both tried to turn the corner at Hilton and Hunter roads. The car ran off the road and hit a tree on the Troy Bullard lawn. I understand the motorcycle also went out of control. Fortunately no serious damage resulted either to the men or machines. I think the screeching of the brakes at that late or early hour in the morning was harder on the ones who heard the noise.
Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bierer, Lakewood Drive, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bierer Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Pat Almond, David Hewitt, Jean Edwards, Mrs. Hoss and Mr. Bush. The occasion was a birthday dinner honoring their son Michael on his third birthday, Aug. 16.
Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hendries and son Edward, also daughter, Patty of Anaheim, Calif., arrived last week by jet to spend a vacation with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hendries, Woodland Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sootsma and daughter of Tucson, Ariz., are vacationing with his mother, Mrs. Gladys Sootsma. They expect to be here for a few more weeks.
We are sorry to say Mrs. Sylvester Wilson is still on the critical list and has been moved from the Ypsilanti hospital to the University of Michigan Hospital.
Last week a family gathering was held at the Jack Lucas home to help Joe celebrate his 12th birthday. Among the guests were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dishong of Clark Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lucas of Detroit.
Congratulations to Mrs. Jackie Lynch who will graduate from the Ann Arbor practical nursing educational center on Sept. 2. Jackie has received another letter from her husband, Rowley, telling her that other than a cold he is in good health. He is at present stationed in Saigon and up to the time of writing has seen very little active work. He tells her the people are very friendly to the Americans and the weather has been mild.
Pfc. Dick Lynch is in the army and stationed at Fort Knox.
Mrs. Rawley Lynch and Miss Mary Ackerson were Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ackerson, Hacker Road.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCrary and J. T. Smith were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. McCrary. Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rufus McCrary and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Williams, all of Flint.

Hamburg Happenings
Jan Moore 229-8855
This past weekend has been pretty exciting with the take off of the Gemini 5. For those of you with a color T.V. the take off must have been a very colorful sight. Just imagine, eight days cramped up in that tiny capsule. I hope they start making more than the compact styles by the time we start trying for the moon!
Visiting with Mrs. William Backlund is her sister, Miss Nan Hollingsworth from Fla.
The Seniors from Hamburg will be putting on a paper drive for their senior trip Sept. 11 and 18 to earn money for their senior trip. If you wish to have any papers collected you may call Mrs. Backlund.
Mrs. Leon Baginski and daughter, Mary enjoyed a day of shopping in Detroit and saw the Beate movie "Help." They spent the night in a motel returning home Wednesday morning.
Mrs. Virginia Zerbel had an eye transplanted last Friday at Grace Hospital in Detroit. She will remain in the hospital for three weeks and recuperate at home for six weeks.
Harold Weeks was involved in an auto accident recently and is recovering at his cottage on Riverside Dr.
Mr. and Mrs. Glen Knight returned home Sunday, after spending a week at Hoxeyville.
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Terry, son Mark and daughter, Vicki with Mr. Loren Terry returned home last weekend from a week's trip to Tenn.
Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Winkelhaus last Saturdays were Mr. and Mrs. David Habitz and two sons from Garden City. A week ago Sunday callers were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis of River Rouge.

Confirmation classes will start Aug. 28 and continue each Saturday morning through October 16. Young people 12 years or older will meet on Saturday morning from 10 to 11. Adults will have a class Sunday afternoons from 4 until 5 beginning Aug. 29 to Oct. 10.

Kent Schedule For Labor Day

Labor Day week-end and fall facilities available at Kennington Metropolitan Park east of Brighton have been announced by Charles Demm, assistant park superintendent.

Swimming will be permitted at both Martindale and Maple Beaches through Labor Day. Lifeguards are on duty and food service is open through the holiday weekend.

The Island Queen, popular excursion boat, will make 45-minute trips around Kent Lake daily from noon to 6 p.m. Sept. 12, then it will make tours week-ends only. During the month of October, the Island Queen will make tours on Sunday only, weather permitting.

Best rental hours through Labor Day are 8 a.m. to dusk. Effective Tuesday, Sept. 7, this facility will be open daily during September from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Hours through Labor Day are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Boat launching ramps are open daily 6 a.m. to dusk, permits required.

The golf course, 18-hole 6,400 yard course, will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily during September. Twilight rate starts at 4 p.m. effective Sept. 7. The course is open daily through Veterans Day, Nov. 11, weather permitting. For reservations call 685-1408.

The nature center seasonal exhibits are on display daily 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Effective Tuesday, Sept. 14, the Nature Center is open for public viewing from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, with mornings reserved for school group appointments.

Grammar is a subject about which the experts are sometimes in doubt.

Time Off

The Brighton Board of Education permits the release of children from school for attendance at religious instruction classes under some circumstances.

Written requests should be submitted annually, specifying the place and amount of time for religious instruction.

Sunday Service

The Lesson-Sermon to be read in Christian Science services Sunday will underscore the need for people today to demonstrate the power and practicality of Christ Jesus' teachings.

Passages from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook on "Christ Jesus" will include His promise as recorded by the Apostle John: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also" (John 14:12).

Back To School Health Checkup

It's a wonderful summer — wasn't it? And now, sudden as an alarm clock's yawp, comes Labor Day looming with its intimations of football weekends, autumn wardrobes, technicolor trees — and the annual march back to school.

That procession involves quite a ritual in millions of homes. Trips to the stationer for school supplies. Trips to the outfitters; maybe trips to the toy shop for consolation prizes. There's hardly a moppet-infested home that won't be bustling with such preparations in early September.

But there's another kind of trip even greater in importance; the safari to the doctor's office for a back-to-school checkup. Some families make it a group project. Some, alas, don't manage to remember it at all.

It may not rival the fun of trying on new togs or exploring a stationery and toy store. But there's this to be said for the schooltime medical checkup: it helps determine whether your child's school year is to be a time of health and well-being, or a season of dragged-down droopiness or some unsatisfactory in between. If any organ of the young physique — sight, hearing, nose and throat, heart, lungs — isn't functioning properly, it can cause poor classroom performance on your child's part. If there is some sort of latent illness or disorder (and it can happen), here's an opportunity to spot it and take the necessary measures.

Then there's that vital matter of vaccinations or booster shots. Are your young ones adequately protected against whooping cough? Diphtheria? Tetanus? Smallpox? Polio? Measles? Have they had tuberculin tests within the last year or so?

Prepare Tots For Classroom

Time figures two ways in the growing trend to bring the very young among the small fry into organized classrooms for pre-school training.

Having established the capacity of five and even four and three-year-olds to become interested in and to absorb learning, this is the time to offer as many as possible the stimulus of a new learning environment, many educators hold.

Public school kindergartens — pre-school classes — are considered especially important where home background does not afford the youngsters an opportunity to start stretching their mental muscles, or to learn how to associate with other children.

In these classes, one of the things that they begin to teach the youngsters is an awareness of time and also how to tell time. This and other "game-like" instruction they receive can serve as preparation for math.

For example, one phase of the instruction, which also teaches them how to care for their own wearing apparel, points out that such things as shoes and gloves come in twos — and twos make pairs.

Drain Decision

On June 20, 1964, the Huron River Watershed Intergovernmental Committee wrote the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers of their tentative preference for so-called "Plan-A" — involving the combined use of both ground and surface sources within the Huron River basin to provide for municipal and industrial water needs.

With the request for a study and with federal funds in hand, the corps began looking into possible reservoir sites — including Honey Creek, Inchwag Lake, Arms Creek, Fleming Creek, Mill Creek and Little Portage Lake, among others.

The Corps settled on the Mill Creek site for the following stated reasons:

The peak flows of Mill Creek always coincide with flood levels of the river. A flood-control reservoir at Mill Creek would reduce the flood level approximately one foot.

The Mill Creek drainage area is significantly larger than any other tributary of the Huron River.

The topography of the Mill Creek watershed lends itself to a reservoir larger than any of the alternative sites. Also, the soil in "self-sealing," allowing minimal loss of water due to seepage into the ground water table.

The reservoir would significantly enhance fish and wildlife habitat.

Philip McCallister, chief of the Corps' Planning Section, estimates that the Mill Creek reservoir would cost "just short of $20 million."

McCallister emphasizes the connection between low-flow augmentation for water quality purposes and adequate treatment of sewage.

"The Public Health Service asserts that adequate sewage treatment must precede efforts to augment low flows for water quality purposes," McCallister states. "Although many municipalities are now improving or expanding sewage treatment facilities, we would like to pin down what is meant by 'adequate.'"

Quiet Study Area Needed

Back to school used to mean shopping for new clothes, shoes, books and school supplies. It still does. But another category is gaining increasing importance on the shopping and planning list. Efficient aids to home study, their location and arrangement in the home — the entire question of a proper home study set-up comes in for more attention these days. It's a simple case of cause and effect.

From the youngest grade schooler on up, children are bringing home more homework nowadays. Parents, concerned about what they can do to help youngsters meet the challenges of modern education, are trying to "help with homework" in the most practical way — by providing home surroundings that furnish the right facilities for study and that are conducive to learning.

The increasing pressure of homework and parents' concern with better home study areas are directly related to today's steadily accelerating demand for higher education. As opportunity for the inadequately educated dwindles, the importance of a college education mounts.

Yet, to be successful in securing admission to the college of his choice, the student must start early. In one sense, preparation might be said to begin with the child's earliest school days, since his approach to learning and the very first study habits he forms will help shape his destiny at college.

Small wonder, then, that the atmosphere in the home now assumes such great importance in back to school plans. To get the most from school, students need — and parents want them to have — ample home study space, conveniently and comfortably arranged.

When plans for the study area are being made, today's educational challenges often influence parents to look ahead. Study in the home starts early and continues at least through high school. Consequently, parents realize that study space which grows with the student is essential.

Modern furniture and furnishings make it easy to achieve "expandable" study surroundings. For instance, several manufacturers now offer adjustable wall shelves, including desk and cabinet units, that can be arranged in almost any combination for the convenience of the student — and added to as need arises.

Another type of expandable study area might be planned around a corner desk in the child's bedroom, with matching storage pieces lined up along adjoining walls. Chests and cabinets can provide extra work space.

Convenience and comfort, quiet and privacy in the study area contribute to the speed and accuracy with which homework is done. What's more, the student who works in a quiet atmosphere, free from the distractions of family activities, is certain to get more out of homework — a major consideration, since the purpose is not just to get the work done, but to contribute to learning.

MICHIGAN + MIRROR +

Michigan residents waited several years for the legislature to implement its own requirement of photographs on driver's licenses and now some administrators say the law still cannot be fully effective.

An increasing number of local licensing agencies are saying that the funds provided to put colored photos on the documents is not sufficient to cover the cost.

In Jackson and Muskegon Counties the police and sheriff's offices have threatened or closed their activities in the driver licensing field in protest to the shortcomings of the law. Since the Secretary of State is ultimately responsible for this service, he must fill the gap in these and other locales where similar action is taken.

Indirectly, and whether feasible or not, the secretary of state may get his previous recommendation that driver's licenses be a uniform state-administered function.

He and several others last year recommended this be accomplished as one part of an overall safety program. It was not acted upon by the legislature.

Secretary of State James M. Hare did not intend, however, for his office to be required by default to establish a whole series of license stations.

Several other licensing agencies have threatened to push the job back to Hare's office if more funds are not forthcoming to pay for the cost of taking, processing and issuing licenses with the colored photos.

There is good indication any change will be partial unless the legislature reverts this fall or next year and enacts legislation to relieve all communities of the licensing service.

In the city of Lansing, Ingham County and a number of other areas, the police administrators say they will continue to issue the licenses despite the difference between cost and state reimbursement. They feel this is a public service function which should be continued in their jurisdiction.

POSTIVE PITCH
"Bring 'Em Back Alive" has earmarks of a most productive traffic safety campaign. In a subject area which is noted for its difficulty in convincing people that they might be killed or injured, it seems to strike home.

Traffic safety experts have long dealt with the problem of people who believe that accidents always happen to the other fellow, but not to them. The Automobile Club of Michigan, which sponsors the program through a committee of civic leaders, admits it is difficult to measure effectiveness of such a campaign, but they point to several facts which indicate it is helping greatly to reduce death and disaster.

Only 18 traffic deaths over Memorial Day and only 21 over the Fourth of July, when traffic was at an all time peak, compares dramatically with other years. In 1964, for example, 43 were killed on highways over the Fourth.

Observers report that frequent radio announcements are very effective. One driver on I-75 said he saw a half a dozen cars dragging trailers ahead of him yet over to the right immediately after a radio suggestion was made that they do so.

Newspapers are carrying stories and ad messages pushing the positive message: "Bring 'Em Back Alive." The travel industry likes this angle. It encourages people to use the state's roads and tourist facilities, but to do so carefully . . . not to say home.

AAA has given out nearly one million bumper stickers, and restaurants, police and trucking companies are cooperating in the campaign.

BUSY TREASURER
On paper, state treasurer appears to be the busiest job in the state. The Michigan Manual, a biennial directory of state government, devotes nearly a full page to this post while relating that it lists only the most specific of the treasurer's duties and responsibilities.

Chief of these of course is the general duty to receive, safeguard and distribute all monies, including federal grants, of the state, its departments, boards, institutions and commissions.

Monthly accounting of these primary functions is required to be made to the Auditor General and Superintendent of Public Instruction. A similar account is made at least annually to the legislature and can be demanded at any time as it was weekly during the 1959 and 1960 sessions.

Twenty state committees, boards or commissions on which he serves actively make the treasurer by far the heaviest loaded of state officials in outside units.

These include several retirement boards and tax appeal units, the Board of State Auditors, Mackinac Bridge Authority, State Office Building Commission and several others.

130 Yr. Old Mill . . . A Step Into Past

MRS. WALKER SHOWS seven year old Kathy Bekkering how 126 years of service have worn these solid maple steps to the basement of the old Mill.

Mrs. Walker explained that the steps have never been replaced since the mill was built in 1839.

By Barbara Becklering
We drove around a corner of a little traveled road, and suddenly we took a step into the past. The little community of Parshalville, built around a mill pond had a serenity that slowed us down, and said with a silent whisper, "stop and visit awhile" and we did.

We wandered through the tree shaded community, and then we visited the old mill, and began our enchanting journey. Mrs. Thomas Walker who has operated the mill with her husband was gracious enough to stop her work, and take our little party through the mill, explaining all of its century old wonder to our eager band.

The mill, with its malty unmistakable aroma of ground meal, was built in 1836, and its solid maple floors have been worn to a smooth polish by the continual dragging of grain filled burlap bags. The children took off their shoes to feel the exquisite smoothness with their toes.

Mrs. Walker explained that the mill had been in the Walker family since the late 1870's, and that near catastrophe had almost wiped out the business on several occasions. The mill is one of the few left in the state and the only one in Livingston County that operates entirely on water power, but in the 120 years since the first dam was built by hand, the cement mixed with a hoe and the forms poured from a wheel barrow, high water has washed it out three times. The last time the dam had to be replaced was in 1943.

Mrs. Walker also pointed out that the mill had been built by hand and showed the visitors the ax hued timbers that have kept the mill sound for over a century. The mill is over 60 feet tall.

The present water wheel was put in the mill in 1913. That date is marked on each piece, and when pieces are needed for replacement the Walkers can get them because the pattern made then is still available to them. The wheel is a turbine type, and is not visible because it is incased in a metal housing, but the children could peer down from the basement and see fish swimming twenty feet below in the stream.

underneath the mill.

Mrs. Walker did not skimp on her tour through the mill. She took her guests through the dusty, dimly lit basement so that the children could see the huge wheels, gears and pulleys that kept the mill in operation, and she led the way to the third floor where great bins held the stores of grain that would later be ground into feed. The children marveled at the quantity of grain and the undigested spider webs that were so clearly revealed in their dust jackets.

She explained that at first the mill had ground flour, but now it was a grain mill, and when we wondered at her knowledge of the mill's workings, she explained that on two occasions, once in 1943, when Mr. Walker was paralyzed with polio, and again when he broke his back while working on the dam, she had run the mill by herself. She said that people used to say that the Walkers would have to sell the old mill, but the Walkers didn't give in. Between nursing her husband back to health and running the mill, Mrs. Walker raised calves for veal to help pay the hospital and doctor bills.

We were a little sad to learn upon leaving, that now the Walkers would like to sell the rustic old mill. They feel it is time they took a little time for themselves . . . somehow the Walkers and the mill seemed to go so well together.

Beatle Fans Back Home

Two Pinckney girls took a trip to Toronto last week and brought back a play by play description of what it was like to see the Beatles.

Diane and Doris Halliburton with their mother and Marjorie Quisenberry drove the six hours to the Canadian City, made sure they all had tickets to the Beatle performance, and then went downtown to see the famous four's new movie "Help."

The next day Diane and Marjorie spent two hours in the King Edward Sheraton Hotel in an effort to learn whether or not their heroes were actually there. This is how they told it:

The next day Diane and Marjorie spent two hours in the King Edward Sheraton Hotel trying to find out if the Beatles were there or not. It was really hard to tell because there were many conflicting reports about their where abouts from radios and other girls. We were also thrown out of the hotel by a policeman because we didn't have a room there. We came back again though, with a letter Mrs. Bingham had written; this enabled us to talk to the Resident Manager of the King Edward. He told us about the press conference at Maple Leaf Gardens.

We then walked to the "Gardens" and entered at 3:30 p.m. for the 4:00 p.m. performance which didn't start until 5:30 because the Beatles were delayed by a defective elastic in their aircraft. But they finally arrived at 3:40 p.m. The other performers in the show were King Curtis, Cannonball and the Headhunters, Brenda Holloway and Sounds Incorporated. The Beatles came on stage at 8:48 p.m. and sang twelve songs in the following order: "Twist and Shout" (John), "She's a woman" (Paul), "I feel fine" (John), "Dizzy Miss Lizzy" (John), "Ticket to Ride" (Paul &

HAMBURG - - - The Center of Activity

John). "Everybody's trying to be My Baby" (George), "Can't Buy Me Love" (Paul), "Baby's in Black" (John & Paul), "I Wanna Be Your Man" (Ringo), "A Hard Day's Night" (John & Paul), "Help" (John), and "I'm Down" (Paul).

They took turns talking and introducing their songs, but because of all the screaming, crying, and generally going into hysterics of 25,000 fans through the whole performance we couldn't understand all they said.

John Fennon wore the hat he's famous for and clowned around alot. Paul McCartney's face and hair were dripping wet from the heat of the arena and hot lights. George Harrison was hit while on stage by something when harmonizing in "Help!" And Ringo only looked up while singing solo in "I Wanna Be Your Man." Well, all too soon the performance ended, at 7:18.

Then we tried to get into the press conference, but since we didn't have the correct kind of pass the police wouldn't let us in. We rushed to the ticket office to try to find out about press passes but they sent us to another office. There we were told to wait for a publicity man, who never showed up; and then after waiting an hour a man told us the press room was full.

We did meet some kids, though. One of whom was a barefoot girl, who had thrown her shoes on stage during the performance at the Beatles and hit George and Paul.

At 8:30 p.m. we went to the Arena to see the second show; but it was so hot we waited in the lobby until the Beatles performance at 10:15. They (The Beatles) sang the same songs as the first performance only they clowned around more.

At the beginning of their last song we ran down to the stage entrance. We saw ambulances where they treated six girls for hysteria. Two girls were taken to the hospital for treatment. We also saw the ambulance leave with Beatles bound toward the King Edward Hotel.

The girls' chase was interrupted, it seems, when they were within three blocks of their destination. Mrs. Halliburton and Doris were hungry. It was 11:30 p.m. and well past time for supper. Marjorie decided to join them so the Beatle episode came to a conclusion and by midnight they were back at their hotel.

Except, that is, for listening to reports on the radio in which they heard Paul answer a question that must have been taped the previous night at the press conference.

The girls are bubbling over so if you want some good second-hand information about the Beatles, contact Diane at 11883 Algonquin Dr. and Marjorie at 11411 Wiseman Dr., both in Pinckney.

Around Bishop Lake

E. C. Schroeder 227-3420

It's been pretty exciting around here if you take the news house by house.

The Hellers said goodbye to Richard who returned to his company and will be in Naples, Italy as soon as time permits. He spent ten days at home.

Dwight Matteson is spending this week of his vacation in the Copper Country. The crisp, fresh air should put a glow into his cheeks and a sparkle into his eyes!

Mr. & Mrs. Andy Bowlin celebrated their twentieth anniversary with their friends, Mr. & Mrs. Paul Dawson (who were celebrating their 33rd anniversary). They had dinner at the Colonial House in Detroit.

Their daughter, Niane Bowlin, is planning her wedding to Gary Szalwinski. They will be married at the Congregational Church, Pinckney on September 11.

Harry Buccilli, son of Mr. & Mrs. Ernest Botke, Jr., was home on leave before going off on a new assignment which may be Vietnam!

Grandpa and Grandma Lloyd Nash happily welcomed their second granddaughter, Teresa Lynn, last Monday. Her parents are Mr. & Mrs. (Linda) John Weatherly. Congratulations.

Cecil and Jane Lindburg moved into their brand new house trailer at Reed Lake. (Aren't this new trailer homes out of this world?)

Your reporter spent a delightful five days up in "God's Country" with daughters Christine Haaxma and Mary, and son John. Our days were lovely, sunny treks to the Porcupine Mountains, Bond Falls, Lake Gogebic and seeing the Arnold Wirtanens at White Pine, Joe Kerns in Marquette, Emil Cooks in Bruce's Crossing. Our nights? Well, a few of them were literally spent, not only in the boondocks, but down in the dumps!

Seems a tourist attraction is bear watching in the County garbage dumps. Rows of cars circle the place and watch and wait and out of the dark forest come the bears! They come while it's still daylight! We had a private dump! And went one step further by training bear dogs. The huge, drooling, painting, monsters waited impatiently until the Big Black Bear lumbered to his lunch counter, then they were off! Their beautiful baying echoed thru the moonlit hills and dales as they raced through the woods. Don't bother wasting your tears on the bears they're quite capable of taking care of themselves. I found out! They can cover 20 miles in front of the dogs in nothing flat, or climb a tree and watch the frantic hounds with their near sighted eyes without a sign of nervous tension. If a hound gets too close or too belligerent, a swift slap with a well-clawed paw sends the adversary spinning into the brush. It's all in fun, no one is hurt! By the time the season is open for hunting, the wise old bear will re-schedule his eating habits to the "non-shooting" part of the day, avoid the dogs and man with the help of his keen sense of smell, and finally hibernate for the winter without a scratch!

John Schroeder, ATW3, drove off in his little Red Falcon Thursday afternoon to his new station in Norfolk, Virginia.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

BY THOMAS E. O'HARA
Chairman, Board of Trustees

Q. I have been told that I should study the "price earnings ratio" of a stock as a first step toward deciding whether to invest in it. What precisely is meant by "price-earnings ratio"? And is this good advice? The figure you arrive at by dividing the market price by the annual earnings per share. Say, for example, the stock of Company A is quoted at $36 and last year the company earned $2 a share. $36 divided by $2 gives you a P/E ratio of 18.

companies. People must eat, and customarily keep up their insurance payments, even when forced to cut back their spending for luxuries.

On the other hand, auto stocks as a rule sell at lower P-E ratios. The reason is obvious: consumers, in a financial bind, are more likely to postpone the purchase of a new car or forego it altogether.

Therefore, in studying a stock's P-E ratio, try to compare it with that of other companies engaged in the same type of business. Also, give consideration to what the P-E for that company's stock has been in the past. A low P-E ratio may indicate a bargain, but it may also serve as a warning that many investors feel the company either is going no place or is actually heading for trouble.

There was a tendency in recent years for P-E ratios to advance and they may have gone as high as they will be for some time to come. It would be wise for the investor not to expect exceptionally high ratios to be repeated in the future.

Q. My wife and I have been advised to have the stock we now own registered in both our names as "joint tenants with right of survivorship and not as tenants in common." What exactly does this mean?

A. This wording simply means that the two individuals own the security jointly and have equal rights to it. If one dies, full ownership goes to the other. If they own it as "tenants in common" only, the second owner does not receive the stock upon the death of the first. Instead, the half belonging to the deceased holder goes into his estate rather than to the survivor.

While some people use joint tenancy to keep property from going into probate court, there are tax consequences that should be looked into. In some instances, depending upon the amount of income the couple has, the survivor might be better off financially if the couple did not hold their stocks as joint tenants with rights of survivorship. I suggest that you discuss your own situation with your lawyer; he should be able to tell you how to set up your holdings for the best tax break for you personally.

Planning A Trip?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Then you will visit a travel agency, study maps, read travel books, and talk with those who have already made the journey. And what about that far more important (and uncertain) journey... the journey of life? The Church offers wise counseling from those who have studied life. The Church presents you with a map formed from the fundamental truths of God, and his directives for living. The Church interprets for you the greatest of all travel books, the Bible. The Church gives you the companionship of the all-wise Guide, who made this journey without a mistake, the Lord Jesus Christ. Agency, map, travel book and Guide for life's journey. Come to Church and find them all.

ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH AND SCHOOL NEWS

Once more we are happy to remind you that two very important events are coming up in the near future. We refer to the annual retreats for the men and the ladies. These retreats are being held at the Franciscan Retreat House in DeWitt. Special reservations are being made for our parishioners. The ladies' retreat will be September 24 through 26. The men will make theirs October 1 through 3. If you wish to make reservations call Ray or Betty McCausey (227-5124).

The Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw (Ann Arbor) needs foster parents for all age children, beginning with the new born through teen-agers. These children need and want loving secure homes. Can you offer them the love and security they need? If you can, please phone 662-4534 and express your interest in becoming a foster parent.

There will be a barbecued chicken dinner on Sunday, September 5 (day before Labor Day) in the parking lot back of the church. It will be from one to six in the afternoon. The price will be $1.50 per person. It will be served by the women of the Rosary Altar Society and cooked by the Knights of Columbus.

On Wednesday, Sept. 8, school will be in session at St. Patrick's. Classes will begin after the 7:50 Mass and the dismissal bell will ring at 12:00 o'clock. Any parents who wish to purchase supplies and/or pay tuition at this time may do so from 12 noon until 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 8, Thursday, Sept. 9, and Friday, Sept. 10.

For the sake of good order we suggest that the parents of the children in Grades 1 through 4 plan to make these purchases and pay tuition on Wednesday.

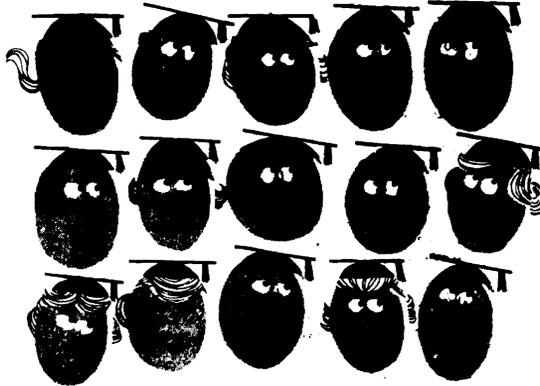

On Thursday we ask that the parents of the children in grades 5 through 8 follow this same procedure.

On Friday the Sisters will be available to take care of those parents who were unable to come to school on either Wednesday or Thursday to take care of these financial matters.

Because our bus schedule for this year is not yet determined, we ask that you watch the Sunday bulletins for further information on this transportation issue.

Our uniform representative will be visiting school within the first two weeks of classes so that any girl who still needs a new uniform, blouse or beranie will be taken care of.
