Mr. and Mrs. Charles Powers (Midge of Showcase and Chuck of Refrigeration Research) have returned from a week's visit to Erie, Pennsylvania, where they visited Charlie's Mother and Sister.

Tillie Bitten of 1025 Madison St., was hostess the first meeting of the Gm and Gossip Club, Monday, the 20th.

It isn't often we are fortunate enough to have a graduate of Brighton High School return after college and teach in our schools. We are fortunate in having Shari Bactcke, who graduated in 1961, then went on to graduate from Western University, to be back in Brighton and teaching the 6th grade. Thanks for coming back to us — we feel quite honored.

Mr. and Mrs. Carney have purchased a new home at 424 No. East St. and are now settled therein with their two sons. Their daughter, Mrs. D. E. Boer and her husband, Jerry have moved to Brooklyn, where Mr. Boer is employed and Jackie is finishing her studies. Their address is Apt. 6-B, Clarendon W., 250 E. 29th St., Brooklyn, New York.

Just a reminder — the Brighton "Annual Staff" will soon call on you asking that you support them by buying an ad in their Annual, or if you would rather, donate a small amount to help them with their expenses. They would especially appreciate your buying and ad for insertion in the Annual. PLEASE SUPPORT THEM. They need your dollars and backing.

So many of our young people are departing for college and we are going to miss them but we are so happy they are continuing their education and are proud of them. A few are listed below. If your boy or girl is not listed, please give me a call and I shall be happy to list them next week.

His address is A/2C, AF 1870870, Det. 1 59th FIS (ADC), Box 1054, APO 09864, New York, N.Y. He would enjoy hearing from his friends. Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dunk, 3400 Pleasant Road. He expects to be released from the service about a year from this November.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Stegenga, 12149 Larkin Rd., had the pleasure of a visit from their niece, Linda Luke, of Detroit. Linda had a wonderful trip to Germany this summer visiting her Aunt, Mrs. Anna Vonpeschke, who many of you will remember as visiting her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Martin, 114 North St., recently.

The Get-To-Gether Club (Seniors Citizens) will meet Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. for a pot luck lunch and fun at the First Methodist Church.

City Manager, Peter Marshall, and Mayor Marshall Cooper have returned from attending a Michigan Municipal Conference held at Grand Rapids, Michigan. Their study sessions included lectures on various municipal problems such as taxes, administrative problems, public works, police, etc., and Mayor Cooper felt they learned much that will be helpful in taking care of Brighton's problems.

Have you stopped and taken a good look at the improvements being made on our Mill Pond? If you haven't you should. Through the efforts of the Kiwanis, the Rotary, the Jay Cees, Lions, Chamber of Commerce, Bev. Borst, Perry Holden and the City of Brighton this beautification of our Mill Pond is being accomplished. It would surely be appreciated if interested citizens would make a donation to this so-worthwhile cause. The next phase of the Mill Pond work this year is the building of wooden planters, planting of trees and purchase of benches.

Work is under way on the New Library and the City hopes it will be completed within 60 days.

Work on W. Main St. from the C. & O. tracks to 7th Street is progressing on schedule according to plans.

The Quiet Quivers entertained their wives Saturday, the 18th, at a steak dinner prepared by the men. The party was being held at the Harold Ranzenburger home at Orr Lake. One of the wives was heard to say the men are wonderful cooks. Could this be prejudice?

Hikka Lehtinen has returned to the United States and Brighton from Finland. She was met by the Fred Hynes and Betty Jo. She had planned from Helsinki to Paris, then to Windsor. It is nice to have her back with us. Welcome home, Hikka.

Mr. and Mrs. E. John Hills of 10287 Spencer (Carol, our librarian, have returned from a short trip to visit their son, Darryl, and family at Huntsville, Ala. While there they enjoyed a trip around the George Marshall Space Center. This contains models of all the space ships that have been used to date by the N.A.S.A. (National Aeronautic and Space Administration.) Darryl is now working on the Saturn V Rocket. He is employed by Boeing Aircraft. His wife is the former Angela Cook, whose Mother and Brother live in Brighton. Darryl is a graduate of the Brighton High School and the University of Michigan Aeronautic Engineering School.

David Kimble left for Traverse City where he will attend Northwestern College. His Father, Whitney Kimble, has been attending a Public Relations Conference at Traverse City, so Mrs. Kimble and the girls drove up Saturday to accompany Mr. Kimble home.

Mary Pearce is back on the job as Secretary for Wm. McCrie after five weeks absence due to illness. She is very happy to come back to such a lovely new office.

The yellow brick building on West Main St., previously occupied by the Brighton Loan Department of the Brighton State Bank has been selected for the new office of Wm. W. McCrie, local legal practitioner. McCrie has conducted his legal practice in Brighton since 1958. His new ground floor location, which is across from the D & C Dime Store, opened its doors last Monday.

Bill came to Brighton seven years ago and began a four year association with Martin L. Lavan, another Brighton attorney. He is a 1957 graduate of the University of Detroit Law School, attended Hillsdale College and is Circuit Court Commissioner for Livingston County. He is married to the former Barbara Barker and they have five children — all boys. They recently moved in to their beautiful brick home on East Main St., which sits majestically on a hill giving them a beautiful view.

Bill and Mary Warwin have opened their new restaurant, the Warwin Kitchen, at 300 West Grand River. We all wish them the best of luck (which means many customers with cash in their hands.) The restaurant is very beautiful and quite unique in that Bill did most of the construction work himself. It is good to be able to welcome Bill and Mary back in business.

George and Lois Gregory have just returned from Beldonia, Missouri, where they visited their son, Sgt. Clark. He is in the Air Force, and while there they attended the now celebrated ball game between St. Louis and the California Angels during which one player played nine different positions, so they were actually on the scene when it happened.

The Brighton High School Band, resplendent in their beautiful new uniforms, made their first appearance of the season last Friday at the first football game of the season with South Lyon. They played splendidly and Mr. K., as he is affectionately called by everyone, had worked out some exciting routines, which they used for the first time. Tommy Gibson was outstanding in his handling of the big drum and we are bowing low to him, the entire band and Mr. K. for their performance. Mr. K. has accomplished wonders with our band and we are grateful to him.

Laura Housner of 2827 Parklawn Drive, School Lake, is now employed by the City of Brighton, City Hall, filling the vacancy left by the retirement of Dorcas Walby.

Mary Duncan, the vivacious blonde from Leland's Drug Store, has returned from a delightful week's vacation with her father at Joplin, Missouri.

Heidi Clausnitzer and Betty Leith are vacationing in Germany, Mannheim, and will be away three weeks. Jerry Leith is "minding" the store while Betty is away. The girls landed in Frankfurt and had a beautiful flight, but because the flight's departure was delayed an hour and a half their luggage didn't arrive with them so they had to wait for it.

The Michigan Bow Hunters 1965 Silhouette Shoot will be held in Howell September 25th and 26th, and they hope all members will attend. The program sounds interesting and exciting, a shoot each day a free hot dog roast (what could be nicer than that word "free"). If you are interested in this type sport, why not plan on attending and joining the club. Individual membership is $3.00 and family membership $5.00. The dance, September 25th, is to be held at the Brighton Legion Hall and there will be a four piece live orchestra. Marion Spencer and her son, Dick, had a splendid vacation from which they have just returned at Jackson Hole, Wyoming.

The King's Daughters invite you to their Rummage Sale to be held October 2nd from 9 to 3 p.m. at the IOOF Hall, W. Main St.

Audrey Mathews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Mathews, 904 W. Main St. is leaving this week for E. Lansing where she will attend college.

Please call Dorcas, AC 9-6483, with your news. Thanks for your cooperation.

Drag Racers Fined

Two Hamburg young people who were involved in a drag race, Sept. 4 were each fined $90.

The two 20 year old Larry Barowald and 18 year old Marilyn Jean Pietras, were drag racing in front of the Edward Cartier home on Winans Lake road when Cartier was accused of firing a shotgun at the speeding cars. The two drag racers pleaded guilty before Justice Stanley Peoviak Thursday and were fined $90 plus $10 costs.

Wilson to Stage Ford 'Funival'

John Wilson, Brighton Ford dealer, on his own, is preparing to stage one of the most spectacular "coming out" parties for the 1966 Ford, ever held in the United States.

The three day gala event will be held at the Wilson Ford lot Sept. 30, Oct. 1, and 2 and he calls it a Funival.

There will be refreshments, games, balloons and plenty of popcorn for the youngsters and a caravan of amusements for the older folks.

On display will be the entire 1966 line of the various Ford models and designs.

One of the feature attractions will be Marco the magician. Marco was formerly from Appleton, Wis., the home of the Great Houdini.

Among the features of the latest revue Marco will present his newest and most mystifying Strait Jacket Escape.

Using the type of strait jacket used to restrain the most violent mental patient, Marco will allow himself to be securely strapped in the heavy canvas and leather "prison" after members of the audience have examined the jacket. Both his arms will be crossed and strapped to his body. In a matter of seconds Marco will escape in full view of the audience!

ARTS AND CRAFT

Joanna Granger, Detroit sculptor, was so interesting while she was demonstrating this media of the arts at last year's Senior Citizens Show at the Historical Museum in Detroit, that she was shown on Dwayne Riley's Feature Story on TV. She has demonstrated and exhibited her sculpture, paintings and photo coloring at the Senior Citizens Show for the past three years and was asked to demonstrate again this year.

Joanna freely admits that she didn't start sculpturing until after the age of 50. Quite by accident one day as she was taking care of her grandson they were playing with modeling clay and to her amazement and every one else's amazement came out this creativeness that some people call "Hidden Talent." Her oldest son, Charles, was so proud and appreciated what she could do that he paid for her tuition at Arts & Crafts at the Detroit Art Institute and there she studied under Prof. Walter Midner who encouraged and commented favorably on her work.

In 1956 she entered her first show which was the National Ceramic Hobby Show, and yes, to her disbelief the judges awarded her second place ribbon in the sculpture division.

She later went into the painting medium, but admits that sculpturing gives her the greatest fulfillment of achievement and entertainment. She is always going to the Big Library in Detroit and studies from books there that one can have access to. She is also currently enrolled at the Washington School of Art furthering her education through the field of correspondence.

Joanna has entered many shows, won many ribbons and honorable mentions, but the most treasured is that first second place ribbon, the two honorable mentions at the National Hobby Show at Cobo Hall in 1961 and having her sculpture accepted by the judges at last year's Three Cities Art Show at the Northland Dome.

Even though Joanna lives in Detroit, her brother Bill and sister-in-law, Rosalie Chapman, are very glad that she joined the Livingston Arts & Crafts Association. Perhaps those of you who missed her sculpture demonstration at our show last year in Howell, will come to see her at our September 27th meeting at 8:00 p.m. in the Brighton State Bank Community Room. The public is invited. Sculpture will be on sale for collectors, etc. Joanna sincerely hopes to get many of you started in sculpturing.

On Vacation In Missouri

DAR Honors Constitution

Philip Livingston Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution is observing Constitution Week with several meetings and displays in the windows of the First State Bank of Howell and the Douglas Real Estate office of Fowlerville. On Monday Sept. 13th five members attended the Regional Meeting at Plymouth with Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter hostess to guests from Wayne, Washtenaw, Oakland and Livingston Counties.

The first regular meeting of the 1965-66 year was held at the home of Mrs. Bernard H. Glenn of Fowlerville with Mrs. Glenn P. Burkhardt, Mrs. J. C. Sherwood and Mrs. J. J. Hendren as assistant hostesses. Mrs. John S. Page, Regent, presided. Mrs. August Schmitt gave a resume of "National Defense." "The Spirit of the Constitution" an address by Mrs. Wm. J. B. Hicks, was an excellent description of the little known characteristics of the men who drafted this document which has for one hundred and seventy four years guided the United States. She told in detail the long discussion, the deep study and the various objections of the States, through its years of preparation. An appreciation of the wisdom and foresight of those patriots.

The theme of the National Society for the year 1965-66 is "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is Liberty."

The book "IN Washington" is now available in text and color pictures, a complete history of the Society from 1890 thru 1965, 75 years. The Michigan Room, furnished as a memorial library with maps and portraits, by state Chapters, is especially interesting.

The next meeting will be October 5, at the home of Mrs. Warren Coleman, 115 Mill Street, Fenton, Michigan with a program of the American Indian, led by Mrs. R. Sydney Clark.

Stimulating Foreign Trade

Stimulated foreign trade is one of the major goals of the time, urged and implemented by both government and private enterprise. But there are problems. One is complications involved in complying with all the rules and regulations which surround the administration of this trade. The problem is a particularly difficult one for the smaller importer and exporter, who lacks the specialized departments maintained by larger business.

But something of notable significance is being done about that. The door is our principal national-international express service—REA Express. Some time ago, it devised a greatly simplified method of carrying on international trade, tailored to fit the needs of shippers.

As an example, REA and a major Japanese line recently signed an agreement. It provides for comprehensive, all-mode import-export transportation and related services for express and all types of general cargo shipments originating anywhere throughout the United States and Japan and moving between the two countries. In addition to providing for international air and surface general freight services, the agreement provides that the Japanese company will be agents for REA's one-document, single-charge through express service between all points in the U.S. and Japan.

In a joint statement, the heads of the two companies called the agreement "only the beginning of what we expect to be a long and mutually profitable relationship between two experienced, progressive transportation companies. In the long run, shippers and consignees on both sides of the Pacific will find their international shipping operations much faster, safer and more efficient because of this agreement."

This is progress that helps build national economies and better foreign relations.

"Make a Good Breakfast, Sir"

Many a homemaker has trouble in getting the family up in the morning. It's hard to leave the cozy comforts of bed. The American Meat Institute suggests using meat as an ally.

As it observes, the nerve-tingling aroma of frying bacon and sizzling pork sausage opens eyes wide and stimulates lazy eaters to better breakfast habits. So do all manner of other breakfast treats. Perking up appetites is particularly important in the case of children. According to dietitians, they can work and play best if they have one fourth to one third of their daily protein requirements at breakfast. And when it comes to white collar workers, meat at the start of the day eliminates the craving for high calorie midmorning snacks.

The Institute also offers some other good ideas. For youngsters who are going through a hot dog-hamburger phase, remember that these foods are sources of high quality protein and adapt them to morning needs. They can be used in a variety of ways to make appetites hum and get them off to school with abounding energy.

John Galsworthy, the famous English writer, once said, "Make a good breakfast, sir; I always say a half-breakfasted man is no good."

Paying for Drug Research

The federal government, in furtherance of certain of its purposes, finances some research in the drug field which is conducted by pharmaceutical companies. But the government contribution is only a drop in the bucket compared to the spending by the companies.

Last year, for instance, company-financed research and development expenditures for prescription drugs for human use came to $278.3 million, plus another $19.9 million for veterinary drugs. Government-financed and company-conducted expenditures came to only $11.5 million. The government, in other words, financed only about four per cent of total company-conducted research. And the proportions will be much the same this year.

Thus, the companies pay for the overwhelming majority of their research projects. It is important that this fact be generally known. It has been proposed that the government, in almost all cases, should hold the rights on a patent obtained on a project in which any government funds were involved, even though these funds make up only a small part of the whole. This ignores the fact that research is only a part of the cycle that leads to the marketing of a drug. It must be rigorously tested and developed. Elaborate reports must be made. This runs into a great deal of money, and that money is spent by the manufacturers. If they could no longer see a chance of recovering the costs, it would be economically impossible for them to continue the new drugs — and unknown numbers of sufferers from disease would be the victims.

Wars that Must Be Postponed

James F. Byrnes, now 86, is one of the nation's true Elder Statesmen. His career has been a remarkable one — Secretary of State, Supreme Court Justice, Governor of South Carolina. The other day, speaking to the American Legion's national convention in Portland, Oregon, he gave the country some valuable advice: "If we must fight another world war against North Viet Nam and other Communist countries, we must postpone the war against poverty, the Appalachian war, the expansion of recreational facilities, and many other welfare programs deemed desirable in time of peace."

This nation, rich as it is, cannot do everything. The cost of the war in Viet Nam, even if it remains confined to that country which is by no means sure, is destined to reach enormous proportions. The special appropriations so far made, though large, are only of a stop-gap nature and will meet only a small part of the bill. The result will be budget deficits far beyond any so far forecast. And no one can foresee the end.

If, with this, domestic programs of unprecedented scope and cost are also pushed ahead, the only predictable result will be major inflation — or regimentation of the resources and energies of the nation, paid for in the brutal coin of lost freedom and undermined initiative.

tered that the Court should decide. Fortunately, Tom Connally, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, proposed an amendment or reservation consisting of six words: "AS DETERMINED BY THE UNITED STATES." It passed by a vote of 62 to 2. Patriotic citizens who would preserve our national life and free institutions from foreign jurisdiction maintain that repeal would jeopardize American authority over our own domestic matters. Tariff policies, immigration laws, laws on education, labor and social welfare legislation and foreign aid programs might, without the Connally Reservation become the subject of World Court litigation. The control of the Panama Canal and Guantanamo might have been adjudicated by the World Court, were it not for the Connally Reservation.

There are an increasing number of vigorous attacks upon this all important safeguard to our own courts, our Constitution and Bill of Rights. The United World Federalists, A.D.A. and the Communist Party U.S.A. would like to see it repealed, as would Senators Wayne Morse, Wm. Fulbright, Jacob Javits, President Johnson, V.P., Humphrey, Secretary Rusk and many others. Chief Justice Earl Warren through the "World Peace Through World Law" may accomplish this for the Liberals. Therefore we must be alert to oppose any move to repeal the Connally Reservation. We should also terminate our acceptance of the compulsory jurisdiction of the World Court.

I am very grateful to the Brighton Argus for its generosity and fairness in printing my articles. If permitted, I will give more information about the United Nations International Court of Justice next week.

IT WAS A CAPITOL IDEA — The inauguration and the reconvening of Congress put the nation's eyes on the Capitol in Washington, and this is the way it looked in the designer's original sketch. The design resulted from a "prize contest," started by this newspaper advertisement in 1792. The prize was $500 and a premium of "a lot in this City, to be designated by impartial judges." A medical doctor, William Thornton, who also was a painter, poet and inventor, won.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

BY THOMAS E. O'HARA
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. My broker suggests buying common stock of a certain company because, he says, it has good "leverage." What does he mean?

A. A lever is a device making it possible to use a small force to act upon a larger one; the advantage the lever provides is called leverage. "Give me a lever," said Archimedes, "and I will move the world."

In investing, leverage refers to the situation where a relatively small change in a company's earnings results in a much larger change in the earnings on its common stock. This happens only in cases where there are senior securities — bonds or preferred stock or both — outstanding. If a company has no senior securities, there is no leverage.

Here is how it works: Company A, with no senior securities, has 1,000,000 shares of common stock outstanding. Its net income, after taxes, is $2,400,000. This, divided by the 1,000,000 shares outstanding, amounts to earnings of $2.40 per share.

If next year Company A's net income should increase by 50 per cent, to $3,600,000, the earnings-per-share will also go up 50 per cent, to $3.60.

On the other hand, consider the case of Company B. Company B also had net profits, after taxes, of $2,400,000 for the year. Company B has 500,000 shares of preferred stock outstanding, on which it is obligated to pay dividends of $1 per share, or $500,000. This leaves $1,900,000, or $2.80 per share, as earnings on the 500,000 shares of common stock outstanding.

Now suppose Company B's net income next year also increases 50 per cent, to $3,600,000. Dividends on the preferred still remain $1,000,000, leaving $2,600,000 or $5.20 per share as net earnings on the common — an increase of 86 per cent. This is leverage.

But remember: leverage works both ways. If Company A's net profit should decrease 50 per cent — from $2,400,000 to $1,200,000 — the net earnings on the common stock will also decrease 50 per cent, from $2.40 to $1.20 per share. However, if Company B's net profit drops 50 per cent — from $2,400,000 to $1,200,000 — it is still obligated to pay $1,000,000 of that sum as preferred dividends. This leaves just $200,000, or 40 cents per share — a decrease of 96 per cent — as earnings on the common.

I would say that, on the whole, your broker is right: leverage offers a chance for greater yield on an investment. However, since it is more speculative, you must be prepared to see your dividends shrink or even evaporate completely in a bad year.

Q. Friends have told me I shouldn't be buying stocks now because the market is on the way down. What do you think?

A. The great financier, J. P. Morgan, had a stock answer when people would ask him, "What is going to happen to the market?"

He'd say: "It's going to fluctuate."

That 19th century observation is just about the only valid prediction that can be made today on stocks — just as it was then.

Teeners Heed FBI Warning

Since the F.B.I. recently sent to all law officers in the U. S. instructions on handling teenage rioters and vandals, Livingston County, among others in the nation, has had less trouble with young hoodlums.

Over the past weekend some Brighton residents were frightened by the large inflow of motorcyclists but they all were well behaved and had come for the motorcycle races on the outskirts of Brighton.

In the past, especially in resort areas, crowds of motorcyclists have invaded small towns and created havoc, looting and terrorizing the townspeople.

Police in many resort cities said they confiscated homemade blackjacks and chains carried by many of the cyclists, adding that others carried knives strapped to their forearms. Some of them wrapped the chains around their fists during the fighting.

REPORT from LANSING
State Representative
Thomas G. Sharpe

PUBLIC UTILITIES — 1965 LEGISLATION
There were numerous public utility bills introduced in the 1965 Legislature, and among them were a dozen or so designed to tighten regulation of railroads. Some were approved, but many measures attracting heated controversy (such as proposals to require the building of an overpass at every railroad crossing in communities of more than 10,000 people, restrict freight trains to a length of 70 cars instead of the present 150 or so, and require a flagman to operate on every train) fell by the wayside.

Major legislation enacted this year which will affect railroad, truck, and/or public transportation systems include measures to:

Allow tractor and semi-trailer combinations a maximum weight of 16,000 pounds per axle on any 2 tandem axle assemblies, provided the total weight does not exceed 73,280 pounds—thus making Michigan trucks competitive with those in surrounding states.

Exempt vehicles used for the transportation of grain and all vegetables from the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission. (Previously fruits, green vegetables and sugar beets were the only produce items exempted.)

Increase from 25 to 50 miles the distance a truck may operate beyond its home city without meeting standard requirements relating to driving time limitations, sleeper berths and daily operation logs.

Extend the permissible range of operations of city bus lines (now limited to 10 miles from city limits).

Allow public transportation utility relief from county taxes (applicable only to Detroit street railways). In the past such a utility has had to pay both state and county taxes, as if it were privately-owned. (Revenue loss to Wayne County is estimated at $145,000 per year.)

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Hear, then, the parable of the killer! A certain man had a son. And the son said to his father, "Give me what's mine so I can buy a 'rod' that will really 'scat.'" So his father divided up to him a portion of his living. Not many days after, the son gathered all his money, journeyed with it to the car lot, and there bought a shiny "hot," with a motor that was "peel-out." At this point, a great pride arose in his heart. He spent his hours polishing and tuning, until the time he could show it to his friends with great rejoicing.

And it came to pass that he called together his friends, saying unto them, "Rejoice with me; drink with me; I have a rod that will really drag." His pals joined him and they "peeled out." The tires spun, the rocks flew, the speedometer rose and great was the rise of it. The driver cried aloud, "Man, I have great skill laid up for many curves; I shall take my chances, dig, drag, and be daring." And they all within themselves thought, "This is smart! This gets attention." And the local citizens looked on but took no step to stop it. The parents did declare it to be "cute."

And it came to pass that a curve turned more quickly than expected. The car turned and rolled and hit a tree, great was the crash thereof. In the hospital, the driver came to himself and cried, "how are the others?"

And the doctor turned, and spoke saying, "Two have given up the spirit, one may perish, and one will never walk again." And the youth would feign have taken his own life in great remorse. And he cried in great anguish, "I have sinned against Heaven and before all and am no more worthy to be called a man." And he was sore distressed: Verily I say unto you, that even though he repented, the fruit of his recklessness permanently marred the lives of many. Fortunate is he who will profit by this account.

Glen Hatcher.

Dear Editor:

In the Sept. 8th edition of the Argus, in the article "Do You Remember?" there was an error. Without my knowledge, the last sentence about the Western Hotel, after praising the owner and his boys about the good place they are running, contained an error. In the phrase, "which was once a condemned and rundown place" — the words "was once" were replaced by "is now" inserted by my girl who was typing my writing.

Sorry, very sorry about this, and would like to see a correction on this in the next issue of the Brighton Argus.

Pop, and the boys, Doug, Fritz, and Johnny have been and still are my friends and don't like this error at all.

As for the condemnation, the hotel is in good shape now and doing a wonderful business, and for myself, I have a drink in the hotel once in a while.

Here is hoping that Pop and his boys enjoy further prosperity, business and good health. As always, Sincerely, Oscar Muller

Herbert L. Munzel, Supervisor Green Oak Township.

Motor touring for years has been a major industry in almost every state of the nation. Road side businesses — drive-in theaters and restaurants, motels and shops, have multiplied as thrived in the postwar years because of expanded highway transportation.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Each political party owes it to the people to state clearly what it believes in and where it stands on vital issues. Unfortunately, party campaign platforms too often are adopted with very little thought by the party as a whole, and are ignored both by the parties and the voters in the frenzy of an election campaign.

To remedy this defect, the Michigan Republican Party this spring appointed four large, broad-based Task Forces. Their job was to re-state Republican principles and chart Republican directions. Last weekend, after months of discussion and effort, the Task Forces presented their reports.

I was delighted with the results. One of the reports, the Statement of Republican Principles, is short enough to include in this column. I believe it will be of interest not only to Republicans but to all citizens who believe that sound action in the public interest can be based only on sound principles.

"WE BELIEVE:

"THAT every individual has dignity and worth. Each deserves the freedom, and has the responsibility, to develop his capacity and character, to build a better life for himself and his family and to make a greater contribution to the common good.

"THAT government exists to enlarge the freedom and encourage the development of each individual. Government must offer the least possible hindrance to each person, and the greatest possible protection to his rights so that he may fulfill his highest capabilities.

"THAT government — national, state and local — must act positively when the individual citizen or voluntary institution cannot if such action increase the citizen's capabilities and welfare. To do less robs man of his opportunity; to do more robs him of his heritage.

"THAT strengthened local state governments must force see changing needs and meet them promptly and effectively. The federal government must encourage local and state governments to discharge their proper constitutional functions.

"THAT the free American economy has excelled in serving the welfare of individuals. Dramatically, it has lifted levels of living to unprecedented heights. No other economic system is as compatible with democracy, progress, and personal freedom.

"THAT there is need for New Statecraft, in which you takes a vigorous part. Every public official must be a true public servant, committed to justice and to the moral leadership of society. Every citizen must be a true participant, contributing to the advancement of that society."

Do You Remember?

By Oscar Muller
Not so long ago, there was old St. Patrick's Church, and what a story it had to tell! The location of happy weddings, the worshipping place of many, many Brighton people of all faiths, and the place also, for Boy Scouts, Girls Campfire groups, summer visitors, and many that were traveling through, stopped here.

Remember Father DuPree, Father Kishane, Father Horner, Father Bath, and its present Father Lee McCann. He built the new church, and the new St. Patrick's school. He has made tremendous improvements on the church location, its new Grotto, the new landscaping, and new paved parking lot, also the new paved road in front of the church. This was all done with very little money available, but faith and belief in God and with the help from a great person, Mr. Fisher, owner of Hi-Point Farms, this has all been made possible. He has done a remarkable job. St. Patrick's is a most attractive place to worship, to attend masses, to make a Novena twice in the afternoon. No matter what faith what denomination, let's all of us give Father Lee McCann "a well done to you."

The St. Patrick School being supervised by Father McCann, assisted by the good Sister, has been an institution of education, surpassed by no other school, and has turned out many wonderful human beings. Here, again, his wise words, of a great education "Give me a child of six and he is mine. The foundation counts" are so true in the history of St. Patrick's Parochial School.

Underneath the church in the basement, is the Shamrock Room, the gathering spot of meetings and weddings.

If you ever want to meet a wonderful, understanding human being, let's meet Father McCann at St. Patrick, regardless what you are, regardless of faith, religion, race or color, you will never regret it.

THE MELLUS HOSPITAL STORY

In the 1900's a young, jovial heavy-set doctor came to Brighton and opened his office in the building that is now the Singer Building on Grand River. His name was Dr. H. P. Mellus.

Being a tactful, friendly person, always smiling, he became a successful country doctor, and soon visited his patients by horse and buggy in the country and surrounding community, any time of the day or night, whenever they needed him.

As he took his patients to either Howell or Ann Arbor, he became aware of the fact that Brighton needed a hospital of its own, and therefore he built the Mellus Hospital.

Now with this hospital under his supervision, it soon became known all over the state of Michigan, as a hope for all people, through the great work of Dr. Mellus. He was a skillful surgeon, and had performed many operations with great skill and success, and also was credited with saving many lives. Due to the increase of patients but lack of time to care for them, he hired many good assistants, and among those doctors was Dr. Cameron, who is now with the Henry Ford Hospital, and also he had Dr. Archie McGregor on his staff, who was the late owner of the Mellus Hospital.

Dr. Mellus married a lovely vibrant nurse that was a medical technician, and built a beautiful home on Spencer Rd., now occupied by Bob Leland.

Dr. Mellus died too soon, and with him died the Mellus Hospital, because it was never the same again after his death. Something happened to it.

It is true that it was still a good hospital, but something was missing. After Dr. Archie McGregor sold to another doctor or everything began to deteriorate more and more, and today there is no more Mellus Hospital and it is too bad because the City of Brighton is in dire need of a local hospital. Perhaps somehow, some time, there shall be another great Mellus Hospital, a hope for the ill, and quick attendance for accident victims, on the highways, at factories, offices or at home. If it is not built on the same spot, who has the energy, the will to save lives and limb, the inspiration to start another location of Mercy, Hope and Healing for those who will need it?

Mental Health Needs Explained

The Livingston County Mental Health Study Committee held its first meeting Sept. 16 to review statistical data that had been gathered concerning the mental health needs for the Livingston County area.

Those in attendance were: Harold Armstrong, R. F. Hauer, John Proctor, Brian Callaghan, James Fornier, June Zimmerman, Hon. Francis E. Barron, Lee Gordon, Madeline McGregor, Lois Hopkins, James H. Sullivan and Allan Campbell.

Campbell, chairman of the Livingston County Board of Supervisors, stated the aims and purposes of the Mental Health Study Committee and introduced Harold Armstrong, supervisor of Hartland Township, as the chairman of the study committee study.

Mrs. Henry Klekot explained to the group the process that had been used in the development of the preliminary study that had been made by the hospital with regard to mental health needs for the county.

Probate Judge, Francis E. Barron, related to the group many of the kinds of problems that his court came into contact with and the difficulty that ensued in trying to secure psychiatric consultation for these minors.

James H. Sullivan explained to the group the opportunities that a new federal public act, would afford to Livingston County in order that these problems might be cared for in our own community.

Although it was conceded by the group that the majority of problems with regard to minor children are a result of the home environment, and are a parental responsibility, a problem, nevertheless, persists.

Flattery is the art of describing others as they see themselves.

KERMIT ACKERMAN, proprietor of Leland's Rexall Drug Store, has placed on the window of his store the new emblem showing he is a member of the Brighton Chamber of Commerce.

Livingston Bar Host to Doctors

The Livingston County Bar Association entertained the Shawnee County Bar Association, the Livingston County Medical Society and the Livingston County Osteopathic Physicians' Association at golf and dinner last Wednesday. Those present, including Christian E. Matthews, president of the State Bar, John S. Clark of Potoski, first vice-president of the State Bar, and Milton E. Bachmann, executive secretary of the State Bar, and J. Cameron Hall, general counsel for the State Bar.

Also present was David Trusdale, secretary of the State Mutual Insurance Co. of Massachusetts, Mr. Thomas Barron of Framingham, Mass., and others, including Dr. Edward M. Kellogg of Howell. In addition, Arthur E. Schultz, M.D. of Lansing was present. Also Green Oak Township, president and Dean of the Detroit College of Law, Charles King, was present.

In a very well-chosen remarks after dinner, the local Bar President, Judge Francis E. Barron, Probate Judge of Livingston County, gave a very brief history of the Livingston county bar with reference to the distinguished members of the bar and the first session of the Probate Court and the Circuit Court of this county.

The members of the Livingston County Medical Society and the members of the Livingston County Osteopathic Physicians' Association, were introduced by Dr. Thomas Barron, who presented to the Hon. Michael M. Carland, Circuit Judge of the 3rd Judicial Circuit, on behalf of the two societies, a token of their esteem, an antique Elk's tooth, framed in 18 carat gold, together with an antique chair of the same material, thus in recognition of the many years of Judge Carland's membership in the Livingston County Bar.

This affair is the first to include the medical and osteopathic associations, as well as the Shawnee County Bar Association, and was very greatly enjoyed by all those present.

Among important invited guests, who sent regrets because of prior commitments, was Hon. Steven J. Roth, U.S. Federal District Judge, of Flint, the Hon. Thomas M. Kavanagh, Chief Justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, the Hon. Meritt H. Doyle, Court Administrator of the State of Michigan, the Hon. Jerome L. Cavanagh, Mayor of the City of Detroit, and Robert Rouse Corporation, Counsel of the City of Detroit.

There would be no great ones if there were no little ones.

Uninsured Auto Law In Force Nov. 1

One of the most far-reaching and important citizen protection laws ever enacted in Michigan will go into operation starting January 1.

It is the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Act, passed by the 1965 Legislature to protect innocent victims of uninsured drivers by setting up a fund of more than $11-million to pay claims.

Although claims against the new fund will not start until the first of the year, there is another important target date, November 1. This is the day that Michigan motorists begin to purchase 1966 Michigan license plates. And along with their plates, they will also pay into the Accident Claims Fund.

Each uninsured motor vehicle owner pays $25 into the fund.

All insured owners, on the other hand, pay $1 into the fund. The uninsured motorist receives absolutely nothing for his $25 fee.

On the other hand, the insured driver does get something for his $1 fee, insurance protection. This protection is much like the uninsured motorist rider which is sold through private insurance companies.

SANDRA BYINGTON, a 17 year old Vermontville girl, was the winner of "HIP Dr. Onward Lady 32," an outstanding registered Hereford heifer, which has already won two open class Hereford breeding shows this fall. Sandra won the heifer for being the member of the Michigan Junior Hereford Association who placed highest in the judging contest, held Saturday at the field day at Hi-Point Farms. She is shown here with the owner of Hi-Point, Mr. E. F. Fisher, who donated the heifer, and the manager of the farm, Pete Dean, along with the members of the board of directors of the Junior Hereford Association.

You build a new home to get exactly what you want

why not get the heating system that gives you exactly what you want

Electric heat is custom heat. There's a thermostat in each room so you can dial the exact warmth you want... in the baby's room, the den, the kitchen, every room! Electric heat is the clean, modern heat. No drafts or cold spots. You get even heat from head to feet. Ideal for your new home.

It's also a good choice as supplemental heat for your present home—to warm up a chilly bedroom or new family room.

The cost? That depends on your particular home. Electric heat may be your most economical heat. It won't cost you a penny to find out for sure. Just call Edison for a free estimate.

EDISON

P.S. A lower all-electric rate saves you as much as 26% on your heating bill if yours is an All-Electric Home. More reason than ever to enjoy all-electric living.

ROBERT TAYLOR, who lives on Highest Drive, south of Brighton, proudly displays his 2 1/4 pound Australian beef tomato. The giant tomato was grown from seed sent from Australia and Mrs. Taylor started it in a window box in March.

Flowers Leads Bulldogs To Victory

Larry Flowers is running like a good fullback should and that spells trouble for Brighton's future opponents.

Flowers ripped for two touchdowns Friday night and picked up 62 yards in nine carries to lead the Bulldogs to an 18-0 triumph over South Lyon.

The Brighton fullback scored the Bulldogs' first TD on a three-yard smash climaxing a 60-yard drive. He then closed out the scoring by diving one yard to finish up a 75-yard drive. Quarterback Ray Luttermoser, a junior, fired an eight-yard pass to rangy end, Bruce Evenson, for the other Brighton touchdown.

The Bulldogs held command throughout most of the game and picked up 208 yards on the ground and 109 in the air. South Lyon's most serious threat came late in the final quarter when it pushed to Brighton's five-yard line before losing the ball on downs. Linebacker Jim Brown was a defensive standout for the Bulldogs as he recovered one fumble, setting up one scoring drive, and intercepted two passes.

This year the winning teams included: Bob Pelkey, halfback; T. Fere, tackle; J. Kenny, halfback; R. Price, halfback; B. Cameron, end; R. Luttermoser, quarterback; D. Vesper, guard; S. Anderson, tackle; T. Bar, halfback; W. Boulter, tackle; H. Maltby, fullback; A. Morrison, halfback; S. Abner, halfback; T. Santa, center; R. Wellman, end; T. Flether, tackle; D. Grob, halfback; B. Wright, tackle; E. O'Brien, center; B. Evenson, end; D. Addington, guard; T. Brown, end; M. Lueker, quarterback; T. Warner, guard; M. Green, fullback; D. Herbst, guard; R. Dehate, end; K. Wossurn, halfback; M. Baker, guard; D. McKeon, halfback; L. Flowers, fullback; D. Ewbank, end.

There were three interceptions in the game with Tim Brown intercepting 2 of them and Bob Cameron intercepting one. When Mr. Prieskrow was asked to comment on the game he said, that he was real proud of the boys, but they still had to smooth out some wrinkles before the big league game next Friday with Clarenceville.

Police Recruit

Young men interested in a career are urged by state police officials not to overlook the present opportunity to become a Michigan State Police trooper, according to Sgt. Mario E. Formolo, commander of the Brighton State Police post.

A new recruiting drive is now under way to enroll 200 additional troopers authorized by the legislature upon the recommendation of Gov. Romney.

Young men between 21 and 29 years of age, married or single, five feet 10 inches in height with weight in proportion, and with a high school education or its equivalent are eligible to apply.
