

HOBGOBLINS PARADE SATURDAY NIGHT

Brighton tots, teens and oldsters will turn out for an evening of hobgoblins and fun Saturday night to observe Halloween. The firemen as usual will stage the Halloween costume parade beginning at 6:30 p.m.

The parade will form at the railroad tracks on Main street and go east on Main to the fire hall where cider and donuts will be served.

Also prizes will be awarded for the best costumes. Then the youngsters will start on their usual trick and treat invasion of Brighton and surrounding areas.

Trick and treat will be celebrated Saturday night instead of Sunday by the majority of children at the request of the firemen and the parents who oppose visitation of homes on the Sabbath.

Friday night the Lakeview Koller Rink at Island Lake, will give its fourth annual costume Halloween party for youngsters 1 to 15 years old. The party will start at 7:30 p.m. and there will be free balloons, popcorn and candy. There also will be games and prizes will be awarded for the best costumes.

Halloween's night for trick or treat presents a danger problem in Saxony Subdivision, according to Constable Stuart Leach. Saturday night an army of around 550 children is expected to invade Saxony and motorists who are driving are urged to be careful of the little ones who will be masked and unable to see clearly. Also parked cars in front of homes present another peril. The youngsters dart in and out between parked cars and when they get into the street they are at the mercy of a fast driven auto. Leach, who lives in Saxony said that last year more than 350 children came to his door, many from far off neighborhood whose parents would park on Lee or Rickett road and let their children beg from house to house.

When the hobgoblins hobnob Sunday night and the Trick or Treaters make their rounds this weekend the Livingston county farmer little realizes what a big share he has contributed to Halloween.

Without pumpkins and Scary witches' costumes Halloween would mean nothing to the little folks. And the farmers' corn plays a big part, the unshocked ears and the cornstalks.

Autumn is when corn is picked and tall stalks are chopped for the silo.

Just as sure as there are black cats eager to cross paths, our most important crop corn is essential for Halloween's success. Products of corn go into making scary costumes and delicious things that fill trick-or-treat bags.

Already evidence of impending gloom is beginning to show up on schoolroom windows.

black cats with crayoned fur arched backs and toothy paper jack-o'-lanterns. Monsters glow from the panes. Witches brandish brooms.

These awful apparitions are cut from paper sized by corn starch to become stiff and stalwart. Crayons and chalk that make those features frightening contain corn starch and dextrin.

Corn starch also has much to do with costume making. It gives fibers strength for weaving and crimps finished garments.

At Halloween grisly ghouls grin and growl from greeting cards sized and coated with corn starch.

School gymnastiums across the land will be decorated for Halloween dances with giant pumpkins, bales of hay and shocks of dried corn stalks. In some places bright, multicolored Indian corn is beginning to appear on show doors.

66 from County Leave For Army Physicals

Because of enlistments, deferments and failure to pass physicals, only two Livingston county draftees will leave for camp as the November quota. They are Danny Fountain and Harold LeRoy Burton, Jr. They will depart on Nov. 9.

However Tuesday 66 Livingston county boys left for Detroit to take their physicals and those passing will probably be called up in the January quota. The December quota is 15.

Because of the ruling that no draftee may be inducted until 21 days after his notification none of the boys who left for Detroit Tuesday will be called before the first of the year.

Faced with the largest draft calls since the early days of the Korean campaign, Livingston County draft boards have been directed to screen previous deferments and to reclassify registrants whose deferments cannot now be justified in the national interest.

The December draft call for Michigan local boards will total 3,384 registrants for delivery to the Army and Marine Corps. November inductions will total 2,825. Calls were about 300 per month earlier this year.

All student deferments are currently being reviewed, and further deferments will be denied to part time students and those who have failed to make reasonable progress in their educational programs. Other occupational and dependency deferments granted under previous lenient policies will also be reviewed. Further deferments will be granted only where they are necessary in the national interest.

Current induction calls are being filled with single registrants ages 19 through 25 and registrants married since August 26, 1965, who are considered in the same status as single registrants in Class I-A. Married registrants in Class A-I will be called for induction in later months, if no single registrants

Brighton Community Fund Kick-Off Breakfast

Halloween Gifts to Feed Hungry Tots

Children, teen-agers, and adults interested in helping the UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund) program will be meeting in the fellowship hall of the First Methodist Church of Brighton on Saturday, October 30, at 6 p.m. The work of UNICEF will be briefly explained, and community calling in the Brighton area will take place until as late as 7:30 p.m. Residents are asked to welcome the callers when they arrive at their homes. The money collected will be returned to the church and sent to UNICEF immediately. UNICEF collections were organized last year in the Brighton area, and with the churches sparkplugging the venture, over $92 was raised. One penny will provide 5 glasses of milk to a needy child, 5 cents worth of penicillin can cure a case of yaws, and 10 cents can protect ten people from tuberculosis.

Because of the great good the United Nations Children's fund has done throughout the world, the Nobel Peace Prize has just been awarded to the UNICEF.

Of more than one billion children growing up in the world today, three quarters live in underdeveloped countries where conditions of life are hard for all. Children bear the burden of constant hunger, wide-spread disease and lack of educational opportunity.

The United Nations Children's Fund is helping to bring hope and the promise of a better future to these children. The Fund was created in 1946 to bring emergency relief to children in war-torn lands.

BRIGHTON OPEN TO U.S. MONEY

Mayor Marshall Cooper and Councilman Robert Gaffney are home from Washington where they went to confer with Congressman Wes Vivian and their eyes were opened to the great opportunities that await Brighton with the aid of federal money.

Cooper and Gaffney were accompanied by their wives on the visit to Vivian's development conference which was attended by 67 city and county officials from the Second Congressional district.

At meetings both Monday and Tuesday officials from various government agencies explained how cities, small businesses, farmers and even individual home owners could qualify for federal funds, either by outright gifts, matching funds or low interest loans.

Funds are available to cities for recreational purposes, beautification, sewage and disposal plants and streets.

This would could open the way for Brighton to establish a wide recreation area with swimming pool and other accessories to give the youngsters a wide field and also allow for extensive beautification of the city without much outlay of municipal funds.

Mayor Cooper brought home much enlightening data on good roads, outdoor recreation, economic opportunity, soil conservation, water shed project, local development assistance, water and air pollution control, water treatment facilities. Mayor Cooper feels they learned much from which the City can be helped in the future.

Jaycees Offer Scoreboard For Football

The Brighton Junior Chamber of Commerce represented by Alan Stoner, Dick Eastman, and John Murray made public at the Brighton Board of Education meeting Monday, their organization's interest in carrying on a Civic Improvement project, "of providing an Electric Scoreboard to be placed on Sloan Field for use at future football games." The present scoreboard is beyond repair.

The new high school was reported as 100 percent completion on excavation, foundation construction, insulation installed around the perimeter and catch basins and manholes installed.

The recent vandalism at the High School is still not solved, however partial lifting of the curfew on extra-curricular activities has been granted.

A motion by Mrs. Maltby at the Oct. 11 board meeting to establish a Citizens Committee to make a long-range study of local school needs and proposed that each board member ask three local persons if they would be willing to serve. Due to the absence of board members, Mrs. Warren and Mr. Warner, decisions on number to be actually appointed was tabled until the next meeting. Mrs. Maltby favors a 21 member committee, comparable to that of the 1964 Citizen Site Selection Committee, however, Mr. LewAllen stated that he thought this would prove to be too large and unwieldy a group.

Delay in delivery of the three new school buses for the past two months due to strike, seemed to be solved when the buses finally arrived in Brighton.

Leo Kujawa expressed much concern regarding need of a doctor in attendance at all scheduled football games. He stated that football players do not sometimes realize the seriousness of their injuries and

LEADER DOG GUARDS HIS DEAD MASTER

This is the heart-break story of two blind friends and a faithful seeing-eye dog. Alton Thomas, 44, blind and alone except for his dog, King, lived at the Brighton Hotel in Brighton.

His close friend was Glenn Garwood blind and alone except for his dog Cindy who was a frequent visitor at the hotel.

Friday a chambermaid tried to enter Thomas' room which she thought was unoccupied when her knock failed to raise an answer. A furious dog blocked her entrance so the landlord called a doctor.

Still the dog stood a fierce vigilant guard at his master's door. Finally the police came, but still they were unable to enter the room. Then someone recalled the friendship between Thomas and Garwood, and Thomas, and their two leader dogs had taken long walks together, and often shared morning coffee.

Garwood was called, and he and his dog Cindy followed the familiar pathway to their friend's room. King growled from inside of the door, and Garwood could feel the pressure of the dog's body against the door. He opened the door a few inches, the two dogs touched noses, and King finally sure that his master's body would be in the hands of friends, gave up his guard at the door, and followed Garwood downstairs.

The doctor reported that Thomas had been dead for at least eight hours, and had died in diabetic coma. He was buried in Fowlerville, and his dog was turned over to the Lions who will try to find him another master.

Blue and Biege '66 Plates Color

With the approach of the time to buy auto license plates, old timers in Brighton recall when such "new fangled contraptions" were unknown. Around 1906 the state required motorists to attach a metal disc to the dashboard such as was used on buggies and wagons, more to denote ownership than for revenue. After 1909 license plates were sold annually as at present. In fact Michigan adopted a motor registration law in 1907, being the second state to adopt such a law. New York was the first. In preparation for the annual rush, there's a huge "numbers" game going on inside Jackson prison right under the noses of state authorities. The numbers in this case are those stamped on the nearly 4 1/2 million sets of 1966 license plates being readied for distribution starting November 1. Plates have been produced at the Prison since 1918. Vehicle license plate revenue in Michigan is very profitable. Total revenue from the sale of 1965 plates this year will gross more than $85 million. Profits from the sale are used by the state to build and maintain highways and roads. An October check of the 1966 run of plates at the Prison revealed that it was well past the half-way mark. It will be the second year in succession for full-sized plates after tabs were used on 1959 and 1962 plates. Secretary of State James M.

Scouts Postpone Bike Hike

The Boy Scout bike hike, postponed last weekend because of rain, is scheduled for this Saturday, Oct. 30, at 10:30 a.m. The boys will gather at Jerry's restaurant. Accompanying the Pinckney on the four-mile bike hike to an unknown destination will be Don Oleski and Dick Dysidio. Only the adults know where the overnight camp-out will take place. The boys will work on their merit badge points. Part of the work includes cooking their own meal - half chickens! Oleski recently stepped down as Scoutmaster and Dysidio has taken his place. The former Scoutmaster plans to continue work with the troop as a member of the merit badge committee and in any other capacity he is able. Ken Charboneau is assistant scoutmaster and may go along on Saturday's trip. According to Charboneau, there is a great need in Pinckney for adult help with Boy Scouts. Anyone who would be willing to devote some time to these boys, whether or not they are parents themselves, would be appreciated by the Scouts. Give any of these three devoted adult leaders a ring - they guarantee you will find your efforts well repaid in the satisfaction you get and the fun you yourself have!

Pinckney PTA Plans Conference

The regular parent-teacher conference will be held at Pinckney elementary schools Nov. 4 and 5. Michigan's Rates Compare Favorably

Michigan's rates compare favorably in the price of plates. Formula based on 35c a vehicle hundredweight has not changed since the mid-1930's, said Hare. And then it was dropped from a higher ratio. Average set of passenger car license plates costs nearly $12.00. This year, because of the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Act collections, all insured motorists will be paying an extra $1. at the time they buy plates, while uninsured motorists have to pay $35.

A Better Newspaper

Since the advent of the automobile more than half a century ago, the United States has been going through a rapid change.

Our forefathers, in a horse and buggy, spent all day, and often two days traveling from Detroit to Howell.

Today we travel by expressway from Brighton to the center of Detroit in less than an hour and Ann Arbor is only 20 minutes away.

This means all of us in Livingston, and Washtenaw county are close neighbors. We visit, we shop in the various adjacent towns, we eat out in restaurants in other cities and think nothing of a 50 mile drive to view the fall scenery.

The Brighton Argus and The Pinckney Dispatch, now merged into one paper cover all the far away places in Livingston county, the western edge of Oakland and northern Washtenaw counties.

Many a reader of our papers in Howell sees something in Brighton or Pinckney they want to buy and in 10 minutes they are in the store of their choice.

As for the merger itself, more news of Pinckney is now carried in the combined papers than was previously carried in the single Pinckney Dispatch.

The Argus-Dispatch has licked this problem of increasing costs and now is devoting its efforts toward putting out a better newspaper.

Our best stories - those most interesting - are from tips phoned in by our friends. When your son or daughter finds the girl or boy of their choice we are glad to publish the engagement with photos.

The Busy Air

People are really getting around the world in this jet age. International travel becomes more of a two-way street as foreigners come to our shores in increasing numbers.

As an example of the trend, our own major international airline, Pan American World Airways, recently announced that it has scheduled 200 transatlantic Jet Clipper flights a week starting at the end of October, 1965.

It used to be that travel abroad was pretty much of a summer monopoly for Americans. That is no longer so. Heavy emphasis is now laid on the after-summer months, when theaters, musical offerings and the social season are in full swing.

Abroad, the airlines will continue to carry on their intensive "Visit USA" program. This showed encouraging results during the spring and summer seasons and further progress is expected for the fall and winter.

A Soviet Failure

A few years ago, various American delegations, some headed by important officials of the government, visited the Soviet Union in order to see what it was doing in the field of electric power development.

This, naturally, was the source of considerable concern in the United States. In the modern world, any nation's electric power capacity is a major indicator of its strength.

Now, a dispatch, based on reports from Moscow, says: "The Soviet economy, which is in the throes of a new grave agricultural crisis, is suffering also from serious power shortages."

"Gone also is the battle cry of years past that Russia was well on her way to catch up and would soon overtake the American economy and its achievements."

The fact remains, we are still far ahead of the communists in electric power output from all sources - including nuclear energy. The Soviets, it is true, have been attempting to adopt some capitalist incentives to production such as the profit motive, but so far the results seem to have been sparse.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Our series of the Governor's Regional Traffic Safety Conferences has a nearing completion. They have been quite successful in focusing attention on the need for an all-out effort to drastically reduce our highway death toll.

The fact is that despite Michigan's progress in modern road building, and the increased attention given to correcting hazardous locations, drivers are getting into more and more traffic accidents.

These needs are here, and I plan to seek as a minimum program of traffic safety legislation next year the following:

- 1. We should provide greater discretionary authority for driver improvement action. We need to be able to re-examine drivers who have been involved in even one flagrant violation or one accident in which they were criminally at fault. 2. We should require a periodic renewal examination for drivers. 3. We should raise the minimum driving age to 17, requiring...

4. The licenses granted to all new drivers should be on a probationary basis for the first year. 5. We should increase state payments to high schools for driver education courses. At present, we reimburse schools up to $25 per pupil, if funds are available. That doesn't cover costs. The maximum should be raised to $40, but payments should not exceed the particular school district's actual cost per student. 6. We need to provide enough money to the State Department of Public Instruction for effective supervision of the driver education program. 7. We should require all beginning drivers, regardless of age, to complete a driver education course before they get their licenses. 8. Driver education for youngsters under 18 should be provided only by schools which offer a high school diploma program and conduct a driver training course approved by the State Department of Public Instruction.

9. Michigan needs a sound program of periodic motor vehicle inspection. At least once a year, we should check out every vehicle to be sure that it meets minimum safety standards. 10. An important new tool for enforcement of our traffic laws would be the "implied consent" law. This simply means that, when a person gets his license, he would be considered to have agreed, by implication, to allow law enforcement officials to conduct chemical tests to determine whether he was clinically under the influence of alcohol. 11. Enforcement would also be improved by requiring the uniform traffic and complaint forms. This would help keep accurate records on drivers and their points. 12. Also for improved enforcement, and to give us better information about accident experience, we should require all accidents involving death, injury, or total property damage of $100 or more, to be reported to the police immediately. We also need to see up adequate facilities to make proper use of this information once we have it, so that we can develop sounder programs of accident prevention.

A FAIR BREAK FOR HOME OWNERS

The average American family's principal lifetime investment is in a home. From the time the initial agreement is signed, until the final mortgage payment has been made, investments in homes help make any community a better place to live.

The home is also a major tax source for the running of the community. When the home is well cared for—and improved, it increases in value both to the owner and in community betterment.

Sometimes it is necessary to sell a home—so it is placed on the market. Then the federal government steps into the picture. If through diligence and care and other factors the value of the home has increased, the profit from the sale is subject to a federal capital gains tax.

To be sure, this liability can be deferred by investing in another residence, or if the owner is 65 years old or over, an exemption from capital gains of the first $20,000 is permitted under certain conditions. But if the home is sold at a loss, the federal government will not permit a tax deduction.

The National Association of Manufacturers in a move to get a better break for home owners, recommends that the tax be entirely eliminated from the sale of personal residences.

TODAY'S INVESTOR BY THOMAS E. O'HARA Chairman, Board of Trustees National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. Americans believe theirs is the greatest economic system in the world, yet when I brought up the stock market to a group of teenagers a while back, I ran into a black wall of non-comprehension. Don't you think parents or schools should give our young people a better understanding of what our system is all about?

A. I salute you for bringing this up, and I couldn't agree with you more. It does seem that if we're all going to profit from our system (and it has given Americans the highest standard of living in the world), then we should know what makes it tick.

I think parents should get their children interested in the stock market by helping them to pick out a stock to buy with their own money. Ownership of just one share probably will be enough to generate the interest to learn how the market operates, since the teenager and his parent will want to know how their investment is faring.

Also, economic teachers in both high schools and colleges should set up an investment program as part of their class in which students can pick out their own "paper" portfolio and keep track of its profits and losses for the duration of the class. Better yet, the teacher could set up an investment club on paper and the students, as part of their classwork, could study stocks and vote on which ones their club should "buy."

Another method I've heard of is for the teacher to ask each of his students to bring in a dollar or two to be pooled for actual investment in one or more stocks. These stocks have been left to the school at the end of the year for a special fund for scholarships or to buy special equipment for the school.

Any of these arrangements would be a wonderful course in practical economics. Q. A friend of mine insists he made more than $5,000 by selling short the stock of a certain corporation. Just what is "short selling", and do you recommend it?

A. First, let me say that short selling on the stock market is not investing. It is speculating.

It's summed up best by the old-time speculator Daniel Drew who declared: "He who sells what isn't his is a fool."

"Must pay it back or go to prison." Selling short is indeed selling what isn't yours. It's the opposite of the usual transaction, in that the speculator, through a special arrangement with his broker, first sells the stock and then buys it later for delivery to the person who bought it from him when he didn't actually have it. This procedure requires a special arrangement by the short seller through his broker.

Short selling, in brief, is the riskiest sort of gambling. The short seller is "betting" that the price of a stock is going to go down. Admittedly, he does make money if the price of a stock is going to go down. Admittedly, he does make money if the price goes down as he "bet," but he loses if he guesses wrong.

Short selling is the riskiest sort of gambling because there is no limit to the losses you can experience in short selling. In most gambling you can only lose the amount of money you bet, but in short selling there is no limit. I have a friend who sold Syntex short when it was 72. The shares were split five for one and continued to advance. Where he did lose $100 everytime the stock went up a point, he then lost $500 until he ended his short position.

I can't recommend short selling for anyone, but for the novice it can be especially "murderous."

SCHOOL'S OPEN Drive Carefully

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas G. Sharpe

1965 PUBLIC HEALTH LEGISLATION

Reviewing the number of newly adopted health measures, there are numerous actions of the 1965 Legislature which should prove very gratifying — to the State Health Commissioner, to local health departments, and to the general public.

For one thing, the Legislature approved a $2.7 million increase in the public health budget — bringing the total allocated for the 1966 fiscal year to $20.5 million. Several items account for the substantial increase over last year's budget, among which are increasing the state's reimbursement to hospitals for the care and treatment of crippled and afflicted children from 80 to 90 percent; increasing from $4 to $6 the state's daily subsidy to counties for the care of tuberculosis patients; a $300,000 appropriation for follow-up attention and treatment to discharged tuberculosis patients; and $833,600 increased state aid to county and regional health departments.

Other legislative actions in the field of public health included the passage of laws to: Require tuberculosis testing of children entering school for the first time, except in those instances where it conflicts with religious convictions, etc. Require public schools to give instruction on the harmful effects of tobacco upon the human system inasmuch as an estimated one-third of all young people are regular smokers by the time they leave high school. (Such instruction is now given on alcohol and narcotics.) Provide for the State Health Department to license, inspect, and regulate garbage and refuse disposal areas.

Authorize the State Health Commissioner to enter into agreements with other governmental entities for the use of Copper Country Tuberculosis Sanatorium for research to advance the state's effort to detect and control tuberculosis. Reorganize the Michigan Advisory Hospital Council to bring it into conformity with recent changes in federal grant-in-aid legislation, under which local communities are assisted in the construction of health care facilities.

Require all counties to provide public health protection services, either through their own department or by joining with one or more neighboring counties to form a district health department. (There are presently 71 counties served by local health departments and 12, which have a combined population of about one-half million, which are not.) Also: this new law increases the amount of state financial aid from $5,000 per county to a minimum of $7,000.

Require local health departments to provide equal health treatment to elementary and secondary school children in non-public schools, provided the parents or guardians involved have no religious objections. Create an air pollution commission within the State Health Department, with a companion bill allowing property tax exemption for facilities installed by industries to control air pollution.

Other measures relating to public health which have been more fully covered in previous columns include such items as making the State Health Department responsible for registering nursing homes caring for fewer than four patients; requiring PKU tests for newborn infants to detect evidence of possible mental retardation; inspecting and licensing of migrant labor camps; expanding rheumatic fever control work through appropriation of funds therefor; etc.

As a result of legislation passed this year, Michigan will take a big step forward in the prevention, detection, and control of disease and will become one of the very few states in the nation with 100 percent coverage by local health departments.

Churches Asked To Feed 'World'

Many Livingston County churches have received an appeal for help from the Church World Service which city the fact that as the world shrinks under the impact of the jet age, the world's hungry are brought closer to America's abundant dinner tables.

"You can board a plane at Kennedy Airport today and within 10 hours step off in any number of countries where you can find people dying of hunger before your eyes," said James MacCracken, executive director of Church World Service, overseas relief and rehabilitation agency of the National Council of Churches.

"You can fly to Kenya, where 40,000 drought-stricken farm families are at this moment starving in the Machakos and Muthoni districts 50 miles outside Nairobi. You can fly to the Congo, where several regions have suffered severe crop losses and officials are predicting mass starvation unless help comes quickly.

"And to this several million hungry refugees — among them Vietnamese, Angolan, Indian and Pakistani — and the specter of world hunger looms as an increasing problem of all mankind. Hunger takes a tremendous daily toll, especially among children.

This year Church World Service through constituent Protestant and Orthodox denominations is seeking $1,257,542 in its annual "Thanksgiving" season "Share Our Substance" appeal, which provides for distribution of millions of pounds of food-stuffs to the needy in 42 countries around the world.

Since the church agency was founded in 1946, it has distributed overseas a total of three and a quarter billion pounds of government supplied food, plus another 150 million pounds of food and self-help materials contributed through CROP, its Christian Rural Overseas Program.

Principal foods distributed in areas of acute need are wheat, flour, sugar (wheat processed to prevent spoilage), beans, cheese, butter oil, cornmeal, powdered milk and cooking oil.

Letter To The Editor

I desire to offer my word of praise and appreciation for the kind services of the McPherson Community Health Center as extended through their Home Care Department.

Home is a feeling of rejoicing in the hospital patient's mind when told by the physician in charge that the patient can go home.

With all due credit to the hospital for their many responsibilities and the tremendous expense the hospital must meet in order to continue which must be in some degree passed along to the patient.

The Home Care Department steps in to assist and to offer advice and suggestions by their trained and skilled workers to help ease this situation when a patient can be taken care of at home.

This not only relieves some of the tremendous strain placed upon the hospital during these changing years in our social life but also sets the patient's mind at ease knowing that friends are free to call and offer their words of cheer and encouragement and the patient can remain at home among familiar scenes and surroundings.

This Home Care may be somewhat of a new venture and one that deserves the support of the people of the community and I believe will be greatly enlarged in the years to follow.

During the years of my wife's illness when she was at home the calls made by the Home Care Nurse were greatly appreciated. Sincerely, Ralph Egger.

Dear Editor, I have just gotten back to base camp from Bein Cat. On the radio we hear about these Demonstrations against the American help in Viet Nam. Many of us here have a bad out look on this.

I would like for these people that demonstrate against us, to be given a rifle and some ammo. Then say the V.C. is out in that jungle get him.

When we leave everyday to the jungle by truck. You can almost read the faces of the guys. They think it's going to be this time. Will, I come back. You ask yourself just all types of questions.

It's just as I was told on coming over here. That everyone of us is an Ambassador from the U.S. People look at us and are friendly in their own way.

We here can see that the V.C. has to be fought here. If not here somewhere else. I think that they here in the south will be hurting soon.

It will not be too many more months that they can take what we are giving out. I know that in Bein Cat it was the first time that any troops have been in there in 25 years. Then Zone "D" no troops have ever been in there.

The French where afraid of the V.C. But it is not so with the American allied troops. Well, that's all the news, I have now. I hope that the people at home can see our side of the story. I will be reporting soon. Yours Truly, James A. Stuhrgberg

Dear Editor: This is the time of year when unthinking parents will permit their innocent children to solicit money from a brainwashed public for the benefit of Communist Nations. All funds collected on Halloween for UNICEF (UN Children's Emergency Fund) are distributed to the governments involved, most of which are communist. Last year communist Ghana received $447,000, communist Guinea received $462,000 and communist India received $3,212,600. Our government contributes $12,000,000 to UNICEF which is distributed among the other nations. Russia, on the other hand, contributes $675,000 and stipulates that it must be used in the Soviet Union entirely.

The Communists are getting several advantages. Beside the material aid, they are getting recognition for humanitarian interests. It also affords an opportunity for the communists to exploit it for subversion and espionage. Knowing this and knowing that the Daughters of the American Revolution and the American Council of Christian Churches are doing all they can to expose the UN, I think we should do some investigating, rather than blindly accepting what the controlled Liberal Press would have us believe. Americans should block the efforts of communism, rather than helping the cause.

Americans who have studied the UN realize that membership in the UN will not only bring disgrace upon our nation but will eventually lead to the destruction of our free and independent Republic. Senator Langer said, "I believe it (UN) is fraught with danger to the American people and to American institutions." Congressman James Utt recommends that we get out before it is too late.

Brighton JV Beats Holly

Brighton J.V. defeats Holly 16-12! A fired up Bullpup team ventured to Holly last Tuesday night. This team, like the varsity, ready to win their first league game of the year.

During the second quarter the Bullpups marched down the field several times but could never quite push the ball across the wide white stripe in the end zone. Holly scored next on a pass to their end which made the score 7-6, the extra point was not made.

Hartland Loses In Final Period

Springstead, Brighton now led 16-12. No further scoring was made as the Bullpup's defense held Holly's offense from entering their end zone.

Two minutes later Greeney's Bruce Sheldon intercepted a pass from Hartland and ran 22 yards for their second touchdown.

All Stars Beat Devils 13 6

A hard fought "clean fight" between the Pinckney All-Stars and the Hell Red-Devils Saturday night ended on the one yard line with the All-Stars victors 13-6.

With only second remaining, the Red Devils had a near touchdown but the ball was caught out of bounds.

Pirates Lose; JVS Shut-out

BY JOHN TASCH
 The Pinckney Pirates suffered another loss at Stockbridge, Friday. Although they gave it a good try, the loss put the Pirates record at 0-6 thus far this season.
 Pinckney scored first in the game for the first time this season. A 20-yard pass from Denny Reynolds to Rocky Bennett set up the sneak by Reynolds for six points. The try for the extra point was stopped, and the Pirates had a 6-0 lead.
 The Panthers quickly got the lead back when Dale Risner broke off tacklers and into the clear for about a 30-yard run and touchdown. The extra point was good and the score was 7-6. Stockbridge scored another seven points and at the half the Pirates were down 14-6.
 The Panthers scored first on a touchdown in the second half and also got a safety when the pass from center on a punt went into the Pirate end zone. The Pirates then got their second six pointer when half back Earl Schram broke through the line and into the clear for a 30-yard touchdown run. At the end of the third period the score was 23-12 and the Pirates were still in it the way they were playing.

J.V. GAME

The Stockbridge Junior Varsity shut out the Pinckney Jaycees team 22-0 last Thursday at Pinckney.
 The Stockbridge team scored their first points when they tackled Pirate halfback Gary Ruggles in Pinckney's end zone. This safety was the only score in the first quarter.
 With two and one-half minutes left in the first half the Panther Jaycees finished off a long march with a two yard drive for their first touchdown. They converted the extra point and the score was a rare, 9-0. However it was not the Panthers only touchdown in the first half as they topped off another drive, with only two seconds remaining in the half, on a passplay that covered only two yards.
 The Stockbridge team got their final six points of the game in the third period,

What does LP-gas do, Mister?

Does it make my daddy's tractor go? Sips down, son. And LP-gas does all kinds of other things, too.
 On modern farms like this, for example, LP-gas is used for water heating, crop drying, deep sets like mother hens by keeping chicks warm.
 In the home and in industry, LP-gas does a lot of other jobs, too.
 It powers power-law mowers, heat pumps and air conditioning systems, cooks stoves.

In fact, of America's four great sources of energy, only LP-gas serves you in so many different ways.
 LP-gas is liquefied petroleum gas—used in the home like city gas and for engine power like gasoline.
 Whenever heat and power are required, LP-gas does the job.
 There are some of the reasons why over 11 million families and hundreds of industries use LP-gas.

MSU Awaiting Week End Crowds

The annual fall migration occurs this weekend when some 25,000 alumni and visitors descend on the Michigan State University campus for homecoming festivities.

High point of the weekend will be Saturday's football game against Northwestern in Spartan Stadium. Kickoff time is 1:30 p.m., with a crowd of 70,000 expected.

Festivities begin Friday afternoon with a round of parties scheduled for most living complexes on campus.

MSU President John A. Hannah will address representatives of more than 50 alumni clubs gathered for the annual alumni banquet at 6 p.m. Friday in Kellogg Center. The alumni also will meet this year's homecoming queen, receive alumni club awards and four distinguished Michigan citizens will be named honorary alumni.

Saturday's activities begin at 8:30 a.m. with final judging of homecoming displays at housing units. This year's theme, going back into University history, is "That Was the Year That Was."

Pregame ceremonies feature presentation of the homecoming queen and her court. Following the game, alumni will meet under class standards on the football field.

Saturday evening's homecoming dance from 8 p.m. to midnight in the MSU Auditorium features the Peter Palmer Orchestra. The dance program also includes presentation of trophies to the homecoming queen and her court and tapping of new members into the Excalibur honorary society.

County School Boards Plan Group Action

The school boards of Livingston county took a preliminary step this week towards the formation of a county association of school boards.

Eight school board members, Mrs. Germaine from Pinckney, Norma Kuehn from Hartland, Ray Slanker and Erwin Haire from Fowlerville, James Campbell, from Howell, Leo Kajawa from Brighton and Robert Smith and Walter Hampton, representing the intermediate school district, met in Howell, as representatives of their boards.

The group studied the purposes of the proposed organization, the benefits that would be realized for individual boards, and began work on a constitution that would be workable for Livingston county's school boards.

The advantages of such a group have been recognized by surrounding counties for some time, and all of the school board members present last night expressed confidence that Livingston county could reap similar benefits.

The school boards of Howell, Pinckney and Fowlerville came to the meeting with definite commitments from their boards, endorsing the formation of the association.

Whisk Skiers Elect

The Whisk Skiers held their first meeting October 20 at Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Anderson's home and elected officers, as follows: president Lester E. Rutter; vice president, Whitney Kimball and secretary-treasurer Betty Lou Leland.

It was decided that the members would attend the Ski Fair at the Armory on East Eight Mile Road, Detroit, Saturday night, November 6. Every one is to meet at the Mt. Brighton Booth in the army at 9:00 p.m.

Pinckney School Crisis Forecast

Robert Semple of the Brighton State Police Post kept a small audience engrossed long beyond the end of his talk at Pinckney last Thursday night.

Principal Gilbert Dunn, in other business at the regular meeting, told the audience that the time has come for Pinckney people to think in terms of another elementary school. When present facilities at the old and new high schools are complete, the school enrollment will have filled all but two of the rooms provided. Enrollment picks up each year by more than 100 students.

Obviously, present facilities, even with current construction, will not serve for long without still another building. Residents are urged to keep this in mind, and after the first of the year some Pinckney people will be requested by the School Board to serve on a study committee with them to determine future building needs.

Brighton Bowlers

Proving Ground bowlers from Brighton apparently are leading the league.

The Southpaws are in first place in the P. G. Brighton League with a record of 14-6. Two teams, Splinters and Sandbaggers are tied for second with 12-8 standing. Gran Sports although holding down last position with 7-13 are making their run now. At least that's the word Splinters hold on to high team series plus handicap with a 3057.

High individual series with handicap shows a tie between Mel Young and Bill "Fastball" Mayville both having posted a 682. Clay Dundas is all alone at 268 for high individual game with handicap.

The three high individual average bowlers are Jack Ashton (175), Wayne "Fireball" Kantz (172), and Clarence Buxton (170).

Lake Bars Water Skiing

The Putnam Township Board adopted a resolution proposed by the Michigan Boating Control Commission when they met in a brief session last Wednesday night.

The resolution, joint with Dexter township, was spearheaded by property owners on Silver Lake and as a result, changes in boating regulations were recommended by the State for township adoption.

The resolution provides that high speed boating and water ski towing will not be allowed hereafter on Silver Lake. This is for the protection of swimmers. Last season motor boats often paid little attention to the boundaries set up at the state park beach for swimmers and swept in too close for safety. This apparently happened at private beaches as well, and property owners petitioned for added control.

According to Supervisor Stanley Dunkel, Putnam township landowners on Silver are practically non-existent, but since the township does touch on the lake along with Dexter township, it was necessary for both townships to agree to the recommendation.

Township meetings are held the third Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the township building.

Police Book County Guide

The president of the NEWLY organized law enforcement officers associations, the Fraternal Order of Police of Livingston County, Sgt. Charles Hards, has announced that the association will be offering Livingston County residents and visitors to our area a unique service starting the first of the year.

Members of the association are compiling a Livingston county road guide, which provide directions to every road, street, and private drive in Livingston County. The guide will also direct persons to each lake in the county indicating the road nearest the Lake and the Township section in which it is located.

GROWTH OPPORTUNITY

Forecasts for higher education enrollments in the 1963-70 period were startling when they were first issued early in the decade.

Now that the predicted period is well under way, the forecast is still startling, particularly because it has turned out to be a very conservative estimate. Experts said as early as 1961 that enrollments in Michigan's public colleges and universities would be boosted as much as 10,000 students a year in the 1963-70 period.

This year the increase hit just under the 20,000 mark.

Predicting even a year ahead is becoming more and more difficult. Last year the 12 schools getting state support estimated they would have 147,312 students this fall. The actual enrollment was nearly 2,900 above this estimate.

Largest of the state universities, Michigan State, came close to its prediction of 35,571 students. Only nine more were enrolled last month on the East Lansing campus.

Only Grand Valley State College undershot its estimate. The forecast enrollment was 1,200 out student numbers are 1,170. This still represents a sharp boost from the 530 students enrolled last fall. The newest state college is now leaping toward its long-range size projection.

NEW BIG JOB

Much new responsibility was placed with Michigan's Department of Administration under the 1965 government reorganization law.

The department previously included seven divisions. The two best known responsibilities were accounting and budget. Others were building engineering, property management, purchasing, motor transport and office services.

Added by the new law, taking effect next year, were jurisdictions over the state building commission, building authority and veterans trust fund board. Retirement systems for various lower court judges; municipal, state, and public school employees, and the State Police also will come under the reorganized department.

Headed by a controller appointed by and serving at the pleasure of the Governor, the department of administration prepares the state budget requests for the various agencies. The controller then works out the final budget which goes to the legislature after consultation with the Governor.

This department has been in the news more than usual the past two years because it has been largely responsible for getting under way the giant capitol development project now becoming a reality.

Maintenance of all state office facilities, purchase of materials and equipment, disposal of surplus and salvage, acquisition and operation of the state motor pool also come under control and supervision of the Department of Administration.

TAX DEATH

Public reaction to the controversial state income tax question could prove fatal to incumbent legislators if an independent survey is any indication.

Legislators are more aware of this than probably anyone else, as evidenced by their reluctance to conduct the proposed referendum which would allow eventual consideration of a graduated income tax. Some lawmakers remember the public was told they would not face an income tax if they would approve the 4% sales tax.

The recent poll did not actually propose an income tax. It only sought to measure if respondents favored a change in the constitution which would permit a graduated income tax. But researchers feel responses showed that the public wants no part of any kind of income tax.

The statewide survey by the Michigan Taxpayers Association got an average return rate on a mailing. The results of the return reflect essentially what many lawmakers have been saying for years, and now say is the reason a referendum is unnecessary.

Nine out of 10 respondents oppose a state income tax, and the same number said they would vote against legislators who enacted one.

Many felt the annual discussions of tax reform are just a disguise for more new taxes, another point which has been heard quite frequently in the state Capitol in recent weeks.

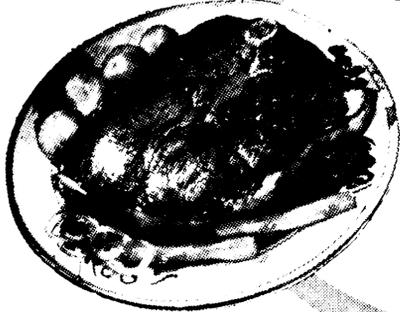

Approximately 195 Medals of Honor have been awarded to men of the Marine Corps.

WHEN THE BRIGHTON FIREMEN took part in the Fire Prevention Week parade at Farmington, little did they dream that their 1936 fire truck would bring honors to Brighton. Fire Lieut. Fred Muller, Leon Sutfin, Gene Felty and Terry Watts rode the old truck the 25 miles to find spic and spin trucks and equipment from surrounding towns lined up in the parade. But when it came to giving out prizes the Farmington mayor, (in white coat) presented a blue ribbon and cup to Lieut. Muller (left) for driving the greatest distance and having the oldest fire truck.

The baby is named Doreen Elizabeth.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bell and Ernie were in Jackson Sunday visiting Lloyd's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell.

The E.Y.C. of St. Paul's met Sunday afternoon at which time they discussed the book they are starting, "The Rough Years." They are also starting to make plans for their summer activity, and of course the ways and means of making those extra dollars for it. They are busy looking for odd jobs to help them out — wash windows, putting on storm windows, etc. If you see a lot of activity Saturday around St. Paul's parish hall, it will be them washing all of the windows.

Farm Ponds Give Utility, Pleasure

Construction of farm ponds in the Fenton and Livingston Soil Conservation Districts is a common conservation practice today. The water supply can be used for livestock, irrigation, recreation, fire protection and other farmstead needs.

The success of a farm pond depends to a large extent on its design. The size depends upon two factors, the volume of water to be stored and the physical limitations of the drainage area. The soil must be capable of holding water. A clay type soil is the best.

To prevent excessive silting and loss of pond capacity at least three-fourths of the drainage area should be in permanent pasture, hayland or woodland. Ponds should not be located where they will receive barnyard drainage. A minimum depth of at least six feet for livestock and irrigation ponds and ten feet for fish ponds should be planned to keep evaporation and seepage within reasonable limits.

In some cases a dam can be tied into the side of a hill. On relatively flat land a pit-type pond can be constructed. The volume of water available for storage will depend upon the acres of the drainage area, kind of vegetation, nature of the terrain and annual rainfall.

Planting vegetation around a farm pond accomplishes several worthwhile objectives. A good grass sod cover is necessary on the pond bank and spoil. Shrubs and trees can be planted around the pond beginning approximately 30 feet back from the pond edge. In addition to protecting the pond, vegetation also serves to attract and support wildlife both birds and animals.

Stocking a farm pond with fish provides the owner with a convenient source of food and recreation. A well managed pond can be expected to yield upwards of 150 pounds of pan-size fish per acre each year. Stocking the pond becomes doubly important in areas where mosquitoes are a nuisance, as a good supply of fish will help prevent the hatching out of these insects.

LOUIS DRIVER, a cooper of the South Livingston SCD, who lives on Silver Lake, enjoys some leisure time fishing his bass-bluegill farm pond. He comments that the family pond works out well for recreation, but the maintenance work to keep the pond and surrounding area scenic and attractive takes time too. The pond was designed and constructed with the assistance of the Soil Conservation Service.

Hunters Warned Of Heart Attacks

Now that the deer season is but a few weeks off, the Livingston county health department condition, although previously warns men over 40 that a heart undetected, could be fatal. More hunters, last year, died of heart attacks than from gunshot wounds.

The Michigan Heart Association says deer hunting often demands a level of energy output which may quadruple the level at which most sport hunters live during the rest of the year. Excesses of weather, change of altitude, rough terrain and the stress of the chase can levy a heavy tax on the heart's capacity.

When you've downed your deer, let it lie until you can get help. And if you have a heart condition, get friends to do this job without you. Make your contribution to the hunt in a less strenuous way. The heart may be a lonely hunter, but you should never hunt alone. Get a good rest — preferably a full night's sleep — before you set out to hunt.

Did everyone survive the Michigan Monsoon Season? Too hot a fall on the first two days of snail game hunting season. That's in the area fields and woods was fairly heavy in spite of the adverse conditions. Pheasants muddled in fence rows, munched wild grapes, chortling as they watched dreary hunters and their water-logged dogs slog through high weeds and underbrush. The neighborhood men and their guests had fair luck — there seems to be quite a few holes around this year, Sunday the holes cleared, the men were sharp and a miniature pheasant began. (After reading the event news items from around the world, one finds that in the know-sage that the pheasants are in the hands of the birds being away at the very beginning and not us.) A few specimens must have foregone Livingston county's "No Snail Hunting" — there was some shooting around the pond. A few were apprehended for having before 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. John Schroeder accompanied Mrs. George May and Mrs. Norman Wike to the fall day of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League at St. John's Lutheran Church, Adrian, Tuesday, Oct. 19. They heard a special report on missionary work in New Guinea given by the wife of Rev. Wm. Wagner. The Wagner family of six children were all born in New Guinea and have been living and attending school there for the past 10 years. The Rev. G. P. Doherty and Rev. W. A. Lehmann conducted the worship service.

Mr. Edsel P. Eskola of Las Vegas, Nevada, is visiting his father, Henry Eskola, this week. Wednesday is the first anniversary for Kurt and Christine Haaxma.

The beautiful colors of last week disappeared with the rain but there is something exciting about the early days of fall. The "party" is over. Autumn — like any of us getting home from a day when — drops the "Sunday-Go-To-Meetings." curls up in a favorite chair with a book and an apple and relaxes before the long rest. Memories are like "chew" on for the wonderful winter months of solitude. Winter serves as a fine escape — weather is an excuse to stay in for those who want isolation, and an excuse to go out (there's NOTHING to do at home) for those who want to keep in the swing of things.

Around The Town

By DORCAS AC 9-6483

A splendid letter was in the Argus last week from Ex-Police Lee G. Bidwell, now of the Ontario, California Police Department, giving testimony as to the integrity of officer Seigl. It was wonderful of Lee to write such a glowing letter about Clarence, every word of which was true, and we who love and respect Clarence thank Lee deeply.

County Friend of the Court will be the speaker.

CITY NEWS

Bids for the new police car were received and Bill Teasley was the lowest, which means we will have a new Plymouth in a short time.

The City is also asking for bids on trees for the Mill Pond. Benches for the Mill Pond has been a problem for the City, that is, securing the type wanted. They have investigated many types at many places, Detroit and area, Ann Arbor, and finally found just what they wanted at Ann Arbor, right under their noses you might say, BUT Ann Arbor Makes their own benches.

Brighton, not to be outdone, will make theirs with the help of Ann Arbor. Their Parks Department will loan Brighton the concrete forms. The benches will be the permanent type, the ends of concrete. They will be good-looking comfortable and we will be proud of them.

THE WOMAN'S SIDE OF IT

Mrs. Ellen Jean Cooper, wife of Mayor Marshall Cooper, and Mrs. Ruth Gaffney, wife of Councilman Robert Gaffney, returned from their trip with their husbands on Wednesday from Washington with stars in their eyes — and which of us girls wouldn't after hearing of the wonderful time they had.

They saw, met, talked to and listened to the speeches of many dignitaries, all of whose names are familiar, and it was a great event for them to meet such personages. At a noon luncheon the speaker was Ambassador Douglas MacArthur, the 2nd, Assistant Secretary of State, nephew of the one and only General Douglas MacArthur.

Monday night was the exciting cocktail hour from 6 to 8 p.m. held in honor of the Conference and their wives. The girls said they were so rushed from this place to that they had very little time to change their dresses and freshen their makeup — and you know how important that is. This cocktail hour was held in the Rayburn House Office Building. Such wonderful plans were made for the entertainment of the ladies. Monday from 3 to 4 p.m. Mrs. Esther Peterson, Special Assistant to the President for Consumer Affairs, presided at a tea. Mrs. Johnson, the President's wife, could not be present because of the President being in the hospital, and she sent her representative, Mrs. Sharon Francis, White House Assistant.

The official board of the First Methodist Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Taylor on Tuesday, October 19. After a discussion on the mission of the Church to nearby people in the Brighton community, the board commended the Youth Fellowship and decided to conduct another such venture next year. It was announced that Joseph Voochis will serve as the new caretaker. Plans are progressing on the Every Member Visitation. The new group of single young adults was commended, along with the adult leadership of Mr. and Mrs. William McCulloch. Wedding fees were clarified, concern for a special UNICEF collection was expressed and people encouraged to support this significant project. Proposals for a more effective use of the old church bell were considered, and the board expressed its prayerful concern for those sick in the hospital or recovering at home. Lloyd French served as chairman of the meeting.

PLEASANT VALLEY NEWS

Yours truly had the pleasure of talking to one of our former tenants Thursday evening at the Bowling Alley Ray William. Ray and wife Kay and their children sold their home near Highland and are now renting the Lawrence McCartney home on Marcy Drive. This too was a surprise to me when I questioned why the McCartney home. He then told me that Larry had been transferred to San Antonio Texas with Northern Airlines. He was a mechanic with Northern at Willow Run and was also working on his flying hours towards becoming a pilot. The McCartneys were also former residents of Van Amburg road, also living in our duplex and many times he would fly over our homes while obtaining those extra hours. He is now a licensed pilot in Texas and we wish he and Eileen the best of luck in their new adventures.

Also had a lovely visit with Lotty Dixon and she told me that her son Paul is attending Alma College again this year as a sophomore. For approximately four years Paul had corresponded with Pen Pals Peter Buxton and Jeff Killick of Brighton, England. Shortly after Paul started school again this September, these two boys came here to Brighton and visited him at Alma for a couple of weeks. The two boys then came back here to Dick and Dottie where they were very enjoyable house guests to the Dixons. They are now touring the Southern states and are visiting various families that they made acquaintances with enroute to United States and since being here. Dottie remarked that these two young men were marvelous and that she and her family really enjoyed making their acquaintances.

Week ago last Saturday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Young and family were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Braun of Freeland, Larry and Bernard were World War II buddies and have continued their friendships for the past 20 years. The Brauns had been in Detroit that day and came this way around to make this surprise visit.

Seventeen members and one guest of the Pleasant Valley Farm Bureau enjoyed a noon luncheon last Wednesday, October 20 at Thompsons Country Inn on M-59 near Highland.

Mrs. Joe Voorhis was hostess Friday evening to seven members and one guest of the Second Friday Club. Two tables of pinocle were in play with Mrs. Joe Ellis taking first prize and Mrs. Larry Young receiving the second prize. A delicious desert luncheon was served by the hostess.

Welcome home to Ben Morris who is a member of the United States Navy and has been enjoying a furlough here with his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Canton Swatz and son Gerry.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pearsall and family are happy to relate that their son and brother Mac is back in the states again with the United States Navy. Mac who has been on the Seas for the past year was selected to attend Navigators School at Widbey Island. His address is as follows: AQ B 3 Malcolm N. Pearsall VAH 123 Box 15 - Naval Air Station - Whidbey Island, Oak Harbor, Washington. Congratulations Mac on your new promotion and we wish you the best of luck in your new experiences.

Congratulations are in store for Mr. and Mrs. Larry Brown. Larry and Betty are the double proud grandparents of a set of twin grand daughters born early Wednesday morning, October 20, just a few hours late in arriving on their paternal grandparents' 25th wedding anniversary. Their happy parents are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brown of Yankton, South Dakota.

Sincerest apologies to the Dallas Wisser family on Andersen drive, yours truly made a big boo-boo in last weeks Sidelights when I stated that Ronnie Wisser carried the Homecoming Queens Crown. I presume I upset Ronnie to the fact that he is not in the kindergarten. It was brother, Douglas (Duggy) who takes all the honors for that evenings performance. Sorry kids.

A speedy recovery to our little niece Julie Housner who has been absent from her first grade classes at Miller School this past week, convalescing or should I say, entertaining the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Meyers and baby daughter Tammie are in the process of moving into their newly built home on Kensington Road. They have been living in the north apartments of ours on Van Amburg Road. Our son-in-law and daughters Robert and Roberta Kilgour are preparing to move into that apartment in the very near future.

A little matter of house to house solicitors seems to be disturbing many residents in our neighborhood this past few weeks. It does get to be a rather disgusting thing when your called away from some household task or maybe a little snooze to find another salesman at your door. I will heartily agree with these folks, that we patronize our own seniors during their magazine sales drive and as for appliances, have our own brand named article we wish to purchase when and where we please.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Orndorf who are the proud parents of a 7 pound 8 ounce baby girl, Margaret Jean arrived at McPherson Community Health Center in Howell at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday October 20th. Proud grandparents of the new little miss are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Orndorf and Mr. Roy Murray.

We are sorry to lose Mrs. Marjory Garwood as a neighbor, she recently sold her home on Van Amburg road and has purchased a house trailer and is now living in the Wilmont Trailer Park on US-16 near Howell.

THE CITADEL OF CAIRO

By Desmond L. Doyle
Dublin, Ireland

Most visitors to Cairo, immediately seek out the pyramids of Giza and the Sphinx, the Egyptian Museum, the Mouski or market area, the new Shepheard's Hotel which is but an anaemic reminder of the splendour that was the original Shepheard's Hotel but I have always been puzzled as to why more tourists do not make a point of including a visit to the Citadel in their programme for sight-seeing in the capital of the United Arab Republic.

Nestled on a rocky ledge in the Gebel El Mokattam, a range of hills which skirts the eastern fringe of the city, the Citadel of Cairo commands one of the finest and most comprehensive views of that cosmopolitan city. From the parapet of the fortress, I recently gazed through the shimmering heat of the afternoon upon such familiar landmarks as the pyramids of Giza and the Mosque of El Azhar, completed in 971, and recognized as the most important seat of learning in the Islamic world today. Further in the distance lay the venerable Step Pyramid of Sakkarah, the construction of which was started even before that of the better-known Great Pyramids at Giza.

From this vantage point, the brown of the slender minarets of Cairo's more than 400 mosques contrasts with the white of the modern several-storied office buildings, which, in recent years, have sprung up in the down-town business quarter. Amid the peaceful surroundings of the Citadel today, the din and clamour of Cairo's busy traffic becomes a faint hum and one can detachedly look across the expanse of the largest city in the Arab world.

In former times, however, the Citadel played a very important role in history and some of the episodes with which it was associated, were far from peaceful. It was regarded as the seat of power, the possession of which afforded the supremacy not only of Cairo but all Egypt.

Its beginnings can be traced back to 1171, when the legendary Saladin assumed command of the Islamic forces, which had occupied Cairo under his uncle, Shirkuh. Saladin, who, in many historical records of the period, has been surrounded with an aura of romance and chivalry, very quickly appreciated the deplorable weakness of his new headquarters. Following the custom which was prevalent in Syrian towns at that time, and to which he was accustomed, he issued orders for the construction of a citadel fortress, on a strategic promontory in the Mokattam hills; at the same time, he commanded that Cairo should be surrounded by a protective wall. Saladin only lived for eight years after the start of the construction work but his wish for a line of defense for the city was later fulfilled by his successors.

It was at this stage that the Mamelukes, who were destined to assume such an active and decisive role in subsequent Egyptian history, entered the scene. The Mamelukes were, in the main, Turkish or Circassian slaves, who were captured and trained specifically for a military life. At first, they formed the Sultan's personal body-guard, but, in later years, the positions were reversed; the slave became the master and the Sultan was relegated to the inferior function of a servant. The era which followed was marked, principally, by a series of struggles among the rival Mameluke chiefs for the throne of the Sultan.

This internal struggle for the possession of the wavering and unsteady throne was interrupted by the arrival of Napoleon's forces in 1798. The French troops engaged and defeated the Mamelukes at the Battle of the Pyramids. The Citadel was then occupied by the French forces who further strengthened the fortress by the addition of a gun tower — it is still one of the "sights" when visiting the Citadel today — on the overlooking cliffs.

Not long after the withdrawal of the French Army from Egypt, the struggle between the Mameluke factions recommenced. The unfortunate Egyptian people were passing through difficult times and a strong leader was needed urgently in order to finish the domestic feuds which were crushing the very life of the country.

In Mohammed Ali, an Albanian, Egypt found such a man, who came to the aid of the country of his adoption in its hour of direst need. Born in Kavalla in 1769, Mohammed Ali first played a part in Egyptian affairs, when serving as an officer in the Turkish Army, which was disastrously defeated by the French at Aboukir, near Alexandria. At this battle, the Turkish troops were driven back into the sea and Mohammed Ali was rescued from drowning by an English boat, which was watching the engagement. Shortly afterwards, he participated in the campaign waged against the French by the allied Turkish and British armies and when Napoleon's troops left Egypt, Mohammed Ali decided to remain in the country.

He immediately proceeded to consolidate his position, which he did cleverly by playing off the quarrelling Mameluke Emirs against each other. In 1805, a delegation of the leaders of the Egyptian people urged him to take over the reins of government and rid the country of corruption and anarchy. He accepted the honour but he realized fully that he was in a precarious position; the Sultan in Constantinople reluctantly authorized the new appointment and the Mamelukes were opposed bitterly to his promotion.

The first sign of interference came from Constantinople. The Sultan had quickly grown distrustful of his progressive subordinate in Cairo and Mohammed Ali received instructions to leave for Arabia to conduct a campaign against the Wahhabis, from which venture the Sultan felt sure he would not return. But Mohammed Ali did not have the money necessary to equip and outfit such an expedition. As the fellahin or peasants had been taxed to the utmost limit, there was only one source from which he could obtain the funds, namely, the Mamelukes.

For this and another more sinister purpose, he dispatched friendly messages to the Emirs, inviting them to the Citadel for the presentation of a pelisse of honour to his son, Tussun, who was leaving for the Arabian campaign. Practically all the Emirs accepted the invitation and attended the ceremony in the fortress. At the end of the banquet, the Mamelukes were urged by Mohammed Ali to take part in a triumphal march through the streets of Cairo.

Over 500 Mamelukes were present and they were preceded by a detachment of Turkish Janissaries and a contingent of the Sultan's personal Albanian troops, while the rear was taken by a regiment of Turkish infantry.

As the procession filed down the steep, narrow road leading from the Citadel, a signal was given suddenly and from the rocks above, Albanian marksmen opened a withering fire, while the front and rear detachments methodically set about the massacre of the Mamelukes. Not a man survived from this slaughter.

After this date, the Citadel gradually became less important as a seat of defense, with the result that it is now merely one of the tourist attractions of Cairo. With the elimination of the Mamelukes, Mohammed Ali achieved his dearest aim and the path was now free for the forward march of progress in Egypt. Mohammed Ali has been condemned by many historians for his drastic action in the Citadel that day but it is now generally conceded that in the 45 years of his enlightened but firm reign, he laid the foundations of what we know today as modern Egypt.

Kent Lake Staff To Aid Students

Thousands of youngsters will get tips on how to discover nature's wonders when the 1965-66 school lecture series provided by naturalists of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority begins its annual five-month program starting Monday, Nov. 1.

William F. Hopkins, chief naturalist, pointed out that Authority naturalists are available to give auditorium lectures on topics of natural science at schools in Livingston County from Nov. 1 through March 29. The school lecture series gives students an opportunity, through professionally trained park naturalists, to become acquainted with the woods, waters, soils and wildlife and emphasizes the need of using the state's natural resources wisely.

Most lectures are designed for boys and girls in grades 3 through 12 and cover 45 minutes, but a 30-minute program "Let's Observe Wild Animals" is available for youngsters in the kindergarten, first and second grades.

They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Corser of Fowlerville and Harry A. Foster of Howell extension 4-H Youth Agent.

While in Chicago they visited the Museum of Science and Industry, Prudential Tower, Chicago Board of Trade, Chicago Federal Reserve Bank, Merchandise Mart, Marshall Field, B. & O. Science Hall, Chicago Natural History Museum, WGN Barn dance, Maxwell Street and Chicago Art Institute. They also went on an evening tour of Chicago and China town and State and Michigan Streets. Tune was also provided for shopping.

The 4-Hers enjoyed many new experiences as this was their first time in Chicago where they spent four days.

Comet Visible Last Of Month

Amateur astronomers of Livingston county, who attempted to see the new comet, Ikeya-Seki last week through the autumn haze and glare of the nearby sun, expect to get a good view of it, the last of this month should the comet survive the heat of the sun when it approached so near a few days ago.

The comet is scheduled to make a hairpin loop around the sun. Then, if it doesn't explode during the solar encounter, it will head back toward the outer reaches of the solar system. Astronomers believe it will come within 800,000 miles of the sun during that swing-around, passing through the hot solar atmosphere. They say the sun's corona may be disturbed for a few minutes, but there will be no effect on earth.

A faint smudge of light when first seen, Ikeya-Seki gets brighter as it draws nearer the sun. At the time of closest approach it is expected to appear about a fifth the size of the moon and be almost as bright.

What will happen when the comet races into the sun's corona?

Most scientists admit they don't know for sure. Big comets are so rare their behavior isn't easily predictable. Some astronomers think it may hit the sun. Caltech experts believe it will swing past, but may break into several pieces from the sun's gravitational force.

The surviving remnant would streak back along the hairpin course out of the solar system, with its tail streaming away from the sun due to the pressure of solar radiation.

TRI-LAKE NEWS

I've been hearing about the fall colors in northern Michigan the past few weeks. In my memory's eye I could see them, for I lived up there during my high school years. But memory dims over the years. Saturday October 16, my brother, Bob Little of Wayne, drove me to Cadillac. We saw first hand what autumn in the north really is. The air was so clear that everything seems more vivid than down here. There was a particular place on 115 where we seemed to be on top of the world. The road stretched down, up, and down again like a rollercoaster, and there, miles ahead of us, lay the great patchwork of green, gold and crimson of the northern woods. Words cannot describe the view. You have to see it with your own eyes to appreciate it. We have a new young peoples' group meeting in our area. Mr. and Mrs. William McCulloch of Briggs Lake, who have recently become year around residents here, have opened their home to boys and girls who are seniors or of college age. This does not mean if you are graduated you must be a college student. The group will plan their own program, discussion topics and speakers. It is open to youth of any faith. Mr. and Mrs. McCulloch were advisors to such a successful group like this in Detroit for six years, that they thought it would be good to have a group in Brighton. The young people who attended the first meeting think it's a terrific idea. To you who are interested in attending the group, the next meeting is Wednesday evening, November 3, at the McCulloch home on Briggs Lake. Happy Birthday to Miss Julie Sixbey of Island Lake who was four October 22. Julie celebrated at a family dinner. David, Sandy and Mike Swiencki, children of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Swiencki, made their First Communion at St. Patrick's Church Saturday morning, October 23 in a family participation Mass. Their parents had a family dinner in their honor Saturday evening. Out-of-town guests included their grandmothers, Mrs. Anna Swiencki of Dearborn; Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Swan and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kent and family, both of Dearborn; Mr. and Mrs. John Skladzien Jr. of Detroit; and friends from Fowlerville and Wayne. A speedy recovery to Mrs. Anthony Lipke of Coventry Drive who has been a patient at Mc-

Century Old Museum Displays Relics Of Our 'Grandma's' Days

By PAULA SIMMONS and CARRIE SPHOR

The first designated museum in Livingston County was established in 1858 in the Hartland Cromaine Library, by Mrs. Florence Dearing, for whom it has been named since her death in 1962.

Every item in the museum, from the picture cards to the hand loom, have been donated by families in the Livingston County area.

The largest single item in the museum is the hand loom which was made in Germany and is said to be over 150 years old. This hand loom has made three crossings of the Atlantic since 1815.

Set in a high glass case, one can see the original Communion set, the old goblet and plate, from the Congregational Church, which is now the Hartland Museum.

Homecoming Draws Crowd Crown Queen

BY CAROL DALTON

More than 1000 people were present at Hartland's 1965 Homecoming, held October 15th.

Although Hartland lost its first Homecoming game in seven years, many people remarked that it was the best Homecoming at Hartland ever.

For the first time, floats were presented by each class, grades 9-12 and paraded at half time. Each float, in order to qualify for a prize, had to carry out a theme pertaining to "Fantasyland" and football. First prize was awarded to the Junior float, "Jack and the Beanstalk." Second place was the Sophomore float with the theme of "Cinderella." The Freshmen's float entry, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," and the Seniors float, "Twenty and Sylvester," referring to the idea that the bird always wins.

Queen Kay O'Connell and King Mike Garwood were crowned during half-time by 1964-65 King and Queen, Judy (Epley) Bantle, and Earl Richards. The Queen's court consisted of Senior representatives Geraldine Gurnee and Jim Cartwright; Juniors Sue Burgess and Jerry Campbell; Sophomores Roxanne Hull and Mark Suttis; and Freshmen Patsy Adamantis and Mark Hull.

Following the game, the Homecoming dance finished the evening activity. Entertainment was provided by a group called the Rebels. The King and Queen were crowned by the principal, Mr. Jerry Hilton, and a "good luck" cake, furnished by the Wilson Ford Company of Brighton, was cut by Queen Kay O'Connell and distributed to the guests.

Preparations for Homecoming had begun a number of weeks before the annual event. A bonfire and pep rally was held Wednesday, October 13th. At Friday's pep assembly, words of encouragement came from the Superintendent of Hartland, Mr. R. Miller; the principal, Mr. Jerry Hilton, and the head football coach Mr. R. Dewling.

How Eagles Lost To Blackhawks

BY GARRY JOHNSTON

The Hartland Eagles failed in their annual homecoming last Friday night as the Lake Fenton Blackhawks won an edging 13-6 victory.

The loss set Hartland's club record at 1-4 overall and a 1-3 mark in league games as they prepared to travel to Genesee this Friday for an 8 o'clock game.

Lake Fenton scored early in the first period with a 26 yard touchdown pass to halfback, Mike Lemere. The extra point was blocked by Merle Smith.

Later in the first period Jerry Campbell recovered a fumble for Hartland on Lake Fenton's 42 yard line. With good running effort by Dick Hewitt and Bob Boyes, and good offensive blocking, quarterback Don Banfield was able to score a 24 yard touchdown and tie the game, 6-6.

Midway in the third period, Lake Fenton scored again with a 5-yard run by senior Dave Lemere and Lake Fenton took the lead 13-6.

Hartland's chance to tie the game came near the end of the third period when Smith ran a 43 yard touchdown, but because of an off-side penalty the touchdown was nullified.

Coach Dewling cited Merle Smith and Rick Anderson for best defensive play for the Eagles. Smith had 13 tackles and Anderson had 11 tackles, 8 unassisted.

Students Visit Ford Village

One hundred four fourth grade students of Hartland Elementary School, accompanied by three teachers, Mrs. Bethel Kellogg, Mrs. Mildred Gardner, Mrs. Emma Winegarner, and the Elementary Principal, Mr. Snacker, visited Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum Thursday, October 14.

This trip was very interesting for the students, especially since they are reading Singing Wheels, a reading text by Harper Row, which is a continuing story of pioneer families and their way of life. They were thrilled by the huge size and the emblems of the past which the museum and village hold.

This trip is an annual affair of the school and is looked forward to from Kindergarten until they arrive at the end of that eventful day when they are fourth graders and have left Greenfield Village as a milestone on the way.

Sociology Class Tours Hospitals

BY GERRY GURNEE

Hartland's Sociology class visited Northville and Plymouth State Hospitals, two of Michigan's homes for the mentally retarded and mentally ill, Wednesday, October 13. The purpose was to compare their living a normal life as opposed to those of the mental patients.

The students were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Johnston and Mr. David Bennett. Mr. Johnston teaches Sociology and Mr. Bennett is Hartland's student counselor.

In the morning, at Plymouth, they listened to a lecture given by Doctor Boyd and visited the children in the wards.

The next stop was Northville, where they again toured the wards and saw some of the mental patients. These patients were mentally ill as opposed to the mentally retarded at Plymouth.

Hartland Heartbeat

Lou Lorenz 632-7187

Mrs. Patricia Allmand, R. N. reports a Hearing Clinic for Kindergarten, 1, 4, 8th grades will be held October 27, 1965 through November 2, 1965 in the School.

Mr. Hilton reports 23 teachers in the High School worked on Home Coming last week. Thank you for a fine job.

Mrs. Patricia Allmand, School Nurse has made a plea for clothing. Children in the grade school often tear their clothing or soil it and Mrs. Allmand likes to keep a few things on hand so that a change can be made.

Five children from St. Johns Catholic received their First Holy Communion at St. Patrick's Church in Brighton, Saturday October 23, 1965.

Club 15 Extension members had a Dinner meeting this past week in Fremkenmouth. Mrs. Judy Johnston and Mrs. Tom Germeund report that the Junior Girl Scouts have planned a Halloween party for November 2, in the Recreation Hall.

Mrs. Margaret Hare, Kindergarten teacher has had her cast removed and is temporarily using a cane.

Winning Books

BY KAREN ENDEBROCK

Children's Book Week in the Cromaine Library will be celebrated by the showing of some 200 to 300 new books.

The week of October 31, each class in the Hartland Elementary School will participate in this event by visiting the library to see these books. Mrs. M. Reader, the librarian, will read a story to the younger children.

Two books that will be on display are: Caldecott Award Winner, May I Bring a Friend by de Regnier, and Newbery Award winner, Shadow or a Butt by Maia Wojciechowska.

"Sing Out For Books" in the slogan for this important week in Cromaine Library.

PERSONAL call

These days, our minds are as busy as switchboards! There are so many things to think about, at work, at school or at home. Even our leisure hours often require a lot of mental activity... and peace of mind seems very far away.

Yet peace of mind is possible for us all, when we turn to God for relief from the tensions of modern living. He is fully aware of all our problems and difficulties, and He is always ready to lead us to a greater serenity of spirit than we have ever known.

That is why, when we take a little time from our busy lives to attend church, we leave feeling refreshed and strengthened. We have shared in His divine gift of peace.

This Sunday, God's call to a new and certain way of meeting the pressures of life is a personal call... for you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... CALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in our lives. It is the source of our strength and our peace. It is the place where we can find the answers to our problems and our needs. It is the place where we can find the love and the support that we need in our lives. It is the place where we can find the peace and the joy that we need in our hearts. It is the place where we can find the life that we need in our souls.

Looking Backward

TWENTY YEARS AGO:

From the files of the Argus Wednesday, October 24, 1945. The Vagabond Coach Company which has selected Brighton as the site of its new factory, has started building operations at its site along the Pere Marquette right of way, opposite the Detroit Gasket Manufacturing Company's plant. W. L. Rice, D. O., was greatly surprised Saturday morning to find that his Ford coupe, which had been parked in front of his residence had disappeared during the night and another auto, belonging to nobody knew whom, standing in the adjoining driveway.

Farm Markets Now Certified

Buyers of produce at the majority of roadside markets in Livingston county this past summer, were assured of the finest of vegetables and other foods when they purchased from roadside stands displaying the sign, "Michigan Certified Farm Market."

The attractive green, white and cream rectangular signs may be displayed only at farm stands adhering to a rigid code of ethics, said Melvin Andrus, marketing specialist with the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Andrus makes regular visits to check the certified roadside markets.

The Michigan Certified Farm Markets Association was formed a year ago by 23 roadside stand operators in eight southeastern Michigan counties.

Members subscribe to a code that includes offering only fresh picked, high-quality merchandise in good condition, plainly priced and described. They adhere to grade standards. Market buildings must be clean and attractive, and adequate parking facilities must be maintained. There must be sufficient advance signs visible from the highway so the motorist has time to slow down, thus preventing a traffic hazard.

The success of the Michigan Certified Farm Market program is indicated by the organization's rapid growth, which seems to indicate the shopper prefers this type of roadside stand.

A $1,000 BUMP BY MONSTERS

It's a small world and no two men are better equipped to attest to this than a couple of Mike Barrett's earth moving crew from Dexter.

If, that is, they could bare to reveal themselves.

The men worked recently on a new subdivision at Whitwood Lake in Livingston county that has been cleared for building. They operate equipment so large that at one gulp it scoops up 15 yards of dirt - equipment so large, in fact, that Barrett doesn't insure it. The rates are prohibitive. And the chances of accident slight.

Not impossible, however. Each driver was diligently at work this day moving earth on the Robert Wheeler land where stood not stick nor stone nor tree nor pole. Nothing that could possibly obstruct progress.

Each man was obviously minding his own business when each heard a crash and looked up. Each was staring int the eyes of the other.

With 80 acres in which to pass, the two massive machines had collided. Damages were over $1,000. Faces were red.

Heart attack deaths among hunters occur three times as frequently as accidental deaths from gunshots.

In a letter to all the merchants they ask that personal canvassing be made unnecessary so they can concentrate on house to house calls.

This year the Whitmore Lake budget including the Salvation Army, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, Catholic Social Services, Michigan Children's Aid Society, Association for Retarded Children, the Whitmore Lake Recreation Council and the Whitmore Lake Family Aid.
